KOREA REDS SEIZE U. S. SHIP, 83 MEN WITHOUT A BATTLE

Americans Wounded In Seoul Manhunt

WASHINGTON (UPI) — North Korean military forces seized a U.S. intelligence ship on the high seas today, and three American soldiers were wounded outside Seoul, South Korea, in a running battle with fleeing North Koreans who had failed to assassinate Republic of Korea President Chung Hee Park.

The White House termed the U.S. warship's capture — first such since the Civil War over a century ago — a "very serious situation."

The President was awakened shortly after 2 a.m. EST to be told that four Communist patrol boats, with MIG fighters flying support overhead, had forced the USS Pueblo to put into the North Korean port of Wonsan.

The Pueblo is 179 feet long, displacing 906 tons, with six officers, 75 enlisted men and two civilians aboard, the Pentagon reported.

The Pentagon, after receiving no word from the ship since 12:32 a.m. EST, reported the incident shortly before 9 a.m. EST.

The State Department said later, "We have asked the Soviet Union to convey to the North Koreans our urgent request for the immediate release of the vessel and crew."

A spokesman said the United States wishes "to reemphasize the seriousness with which we view this flagrant North Korean action against a United States naval vessel on the high seas."

"The matter also will be raised directly with the North Koreans in a meeting of the military armistice commission" at Panmunjom, the department said.

Thai Minister Reveals U.S. Laos Bombing

BANGKOK, Thailand (AP) — Prime Minister Thanom Kittikachorn broke a badly kept secret and officially revealed for the first time today that U.S. planes are bombing Laos from bases in Thailand.

Until Thanom spoke in reply to a question at his weekly press conference, the Thai government had maintained silence on the activities of U.S. aircraft over Laos.

The United States has been equally discreet. It has maintained that Thai-based U.S. aircraft fly over Laos only on armed reconnaissance missions. A U.S. Embassy spokesman in Bangkok said this was still the American official position.

The six big bases in Thailand, Korat, Tahkli, Udorn, Ubol, Utapao and Nakorn Phanom are used by a wide variety of aircraft ranging from B52 strategic bombers to F105 and F4C fighter-bombers to rescue helicopters and propeller-driven Skyraiders.

Until recently most of the F105 raids were directed at targets in North Vietnam.

However in recent months heavy attacks have been launched against Communist

FRANKS VALLEY LAND

Church To Sign Pact This Week

I-J Special Report

SACRAMENTO — Oral agreement on a sale price of $3,009,200 has been reached between the state and owner of the Brazil and Souza ranches in Franks Valley.

State Parks and Recreation Director William Penn Mott made the announcement today. The pastoral valley has long been sought by conservationists to add to Mount Tamalpais State Park.

The agreement means that proposals for any other park land purchase in Marin by the state "is dead as far as the 1964 bond money is concerned," Mott said. His statement thus killed hopes by some that the state might shift funds allocated to expand Mount Tamalpais State Park and buy park land in San Geronimo Valley. (See photos and story, page 20.)

All funds from the 1964 measure in which Californians voted $150 million in bonds to buy and develop parks have been either spent or allocated in other counties, Mott said.

The First Christian Church of America, owner of the Franks Valley land, is expected to sign the sale agreement by the end of the week, Mott said.

"We have no reason to assume that anything other than consummation will occur," he said.

The sale price is almost $300,000 below the church's previous "final" demand of $3.3 million. The state price is "within the state's appraised

Teen's Call Jars Adults To Action

By THERON A. NEWELL

After hours of worried citizens' debate about the use of marijuana and LSD in San Jose Junior High School and Novato High School, it took a telephone call last night from a teen-age girl to set the adults on the road to action.

As a result of the call, a private meeting of teen-agers from the Ignacio area will be held with Det. Sgt. Otto Haiungs of the Novato police department, Rev. Charles B. Gompertz of the Church in Ignacio and a representative of Synanon if one is available.

This meeting will be to learn the viewpoint of the teen-agers involved or who have knowledge of the use of marijuana and LSD. Other meetings with other teen-agers will be set up later, the group decided.

The meeting of parents and interested parties that launched it all was held last night at the Novato home of Mr. and Mrs. David Bloom of 190 Montur Way to discuss the recent disclosures of the use of drugs in the junior high school.

Late in the evening, Mrs. Bloom received a telephone call from a teen-age girl who would not identify herself. She said she was one of the "in" group. They knew that the adults were holding the meeting and felt that all they would do is talk. The girl told Mrs. Bloom that she felt the adult meeting would fall flat on its face.

Mrs. Bloom reported the girl as saying that the "kids want the parents to do something this time." She reported the girl as saying the youngsters were bored.

Following up the meeting with the teen-agers, other meetings both large and small are planned for the future to discuss the problem of the abuse of drugs.

Haiungs had given the adult group a talk on the effects and what to look for in teen-age use of marijuana, LSD and other drugs. Gilbert Guerin of the Novato Unified School District, who has been working on educational materials on drugs, told of

Wilson Is Optimistic In Kosygin Sessions

MOSCOW (UPI)—Soviet Premier Alexei Kosygin told British Prime Minister Harold Wilson today that if Britain wants peace in Vietnam he should demand an end to U.S. bombing of North Vietnam.

Despite Kosygin's statement the British leader said he believed there is a "much shorter bridge to peace" than before.

ROSS, NOVATO VOTING ON TAX, BONDS

Shortly before noon today, 478 Novato voters out of a total of 5,874 had voted on a special $8 million park and street bond election.

In Ross, the special election is for a 50-cent tax increase. In the first hour after polls opened at 7 a.m., 123 voters had cast their ballots and by 11:15 a.m., the total was 255. There are 1,450 registered voters in the town.

Last time Ross residents voted on this measure was in June when it was rejected 318 to 298.

LBJ Unveils Job Proposal

WASHINGTON (UPI) —President Johnson proposed to Congress today a $2.1 billion program to wipe out hard-core unemployment in the nation's big-city slums. He conceded it might not work but said "it's better to have tried and failed than not to have tried at all."

The program, outlined in a special presidential message to The House and Senate, embodied a major policy shift in federal manpower programs. The big emphasis is placed on hiring by business firms.

Labor Secretary W. Willard Wirtz told reporters it was possible that the policy shift could result in a cutback of some antipoverty programs. If this happened he thought the reductions would be very small, however.

Flames Destroy Vacant Hotel

SAN FRANCISCO (UPI)— A three-alarm fire roared through a vacant four-story downtown hotel last night before it was contained by about 150 firemen.

The blaze broke out on the second floor of the Opera Hotel at Van Ness Avenue and Fell Street and quickly ate through the building.

One fireman suffered smoke inhalation.

Bridge Bills: Do Without, Add To Board

SACRAMENTO (AP) — A San Francisco assemblyman has proposed that the Legislature either expand the authority of the Golden Gate Bridge and Highway District or do away with it.

The proposal came from Assemblyman John Francis Foran, a Democrat and chairman of the Assembly Transportation Committee. He introuced bills yesterday designed to allow use of surplus Golden Gate Bridge funds to finance rapid transit systems, a power requested by district directors.

"At present, the surplus monies available to the Golden Gate Bridge District can only be used for certain limited purposes relating to the bridge. This is wrong," Foran said.

"Bridge monies must be made available for the best transportation solutions to the San Francisco-Marin crossing problem," he said.

One bill would give the bridge directors authority to participate in the development of a variety of transportation solutions.

The bill also would add three new directors to the board, two from Marin County and one from San Francisco.

The other measure would dissolve the district and put the bridge under the State Division of Bay Toll Crossings. Under this proposal, spurplus funds from Golden Gate tolls would be earmarked for finding solutions to the Golden Gate transportation problems.

BOOM IN ART

$50,000 For Marin Painting

The boom in painting by Pat Cucaro, a Sausalito artist, peaked in San Francisco today when the Cory Gallery announced it had sold a painting of Cucaro's daughter to a man for $50,000.

The gallery announced that a picture entitled "Angelique — Child of Peace" had been bought for that sum by William J. Glanister, identified by the gallery as a wealthy retired gold mine and real estate owner who lives in San Francisco.

Cucaro's paintings have zoomed in price. He sold them for a few dollars at the Hungry I in 1946. The gallery said pictures by the prolific painter now bring in "hun-

Frozen Ocean Search For Hydrogen Bombs

WASHINGTON (UPI) —Air Force specialists searched the ice-covered ocean surface off the coast of Greenland today for four one-megaton H-bombs missing in the fiery crash of a B52 bomber on Arctic patrol.

It was not known whether the bombs, said by the Pentagon to be unarmed and in "no danger" of exploding, were scattered on the frozen surface of North Star Bay, embedded in the ice, or at the bottom of the ocean under 800 to 900 feet of water.

The B52 Stratofortress, which crashed in flames and burned its way partially through the six-to-nine foot thick shelf of ice, yesterday was part of the Strategic Air Command force. B52s constantly fly the polar "circle route" to guard against any surprise attack.

The accident took place seven miles short of the runway at Thule Air Force Base in Greenland while the four-jet bomber was attempting an emergency landing.

The crash was America's 10th "nuclear accident" involving airplanes since 1958. Less than two years ago, it took a three month search in 1966 before a hydrogen bomb was found in the Mediterranean off the Spanish coast, after midflight collision of a B52 and a KC135 jet tanker.

The Greenland accident claimed only one life but threatened diplomatic repercussions from Denmark. Greenland is a Danish possession and Copenhagen reminded Washington it prohibits nuclear flights over its territories.

The Danish government asked Washington for more information. Between 50 and 100 Danes demonstrated outside the U. S. embassy in Copenhagen Monday when the news of the crash became known after an 18-hour delay.

As the search continued in remote Greenland, the Danes were voting in parliamentary elections to decide the political future of Prime Minister Jens Otto Krag, a firm friend of the United States in NATO.

Scientists here said the impact of the crash probably was enough to send the H-bombs crashing through the 6 to 9 foot ice on North Star Bay, a part of the larger Baffin Bay.

The Atomic Energy Commission (AEC), manufacturer of H-bombs for the Defense Department, sent three experts to Greenland to help locate the weapons.

Joan Baez Group Tax Refund Denied

SAN FRANCISCO (UPI) — A taxpayers' suit seeking a refund on income taxes spent on the Vietnam war was dismissed today by U.S. Dist. Judge Alfonzo J. Zirpoli.

Folksinger Joan Baez and 56 other members of the group called "Taxpayers Against War" said they would appeal the decision.

The group also said similar suits have been prepared in Los Angeles and in other states.

Zirpoli said his action was based on grounds that such a refund would violate the "freedom of religion" amendment to the constitution. He said moral and philosophical considerations were irrelevant to the law under the First Amendment.

The suit had termed the war illegal and immoral.

"The formers of the constitution intended the provisions of the first amdnement that 'Congress shall make no law respecting an establishment of religion, or prohibiting the exercise thereof' to serve as a vehicle for the preservation of the republic and not one for its destruction," the judge ruled.

The plaintiffs claimed their portion of income taxes used for the war was collected illegally because:

The war in Vietnam is illegal and in violation of the United Nations charter.

The U. S. conduct of the war from 1965-66 (tax years for which the complaint had been filed) was a crime against peace and humanity.

America's activities in Vietnam in 1965-66 violated the constitution, making compulsory participation through payment of income or other taxes in violation of the First Amendment to the Constitution.

LBJ Adviser Worries Over Signs Of Boom

WASHINGTON (AP) — The nation's economy—already enjoying almost seven consecutive years without a recession—is now clicking off the biggest dollar advance in its history, says the government's chief economist.

But Gardner Ackley, outgoing chairman of the Council of Economic Advisers, added yesterday he isn't overly happy about it.

In a preview of the council's economic report, scheduled for submission to Congress later this month, Ackley said the nation's Gross National Product this year should increase by a record $61 billion over 1967.

This would mean a GNP for 1968 as a whole of $846 billion or about 7.75 per cent above last year.

GNP is the value of all goods and services produced in the economy and is the broadest yardstick of economic activity.

But Ackley told the House Ways and Means Committee, Congress must raise taxes to get the nation moving toward better balance and stable prices.

Even with higher taxes, Ackley said, the economy will have trouble with prices this year.

He forecast continuation of the wage-price spiral which began in 1966, but said that with higher taxes the 4 per cent price rises of recent months can be lowered toward 3 per cent by year's end.

Treasury Still Battles Shortage Of Half Dollars

WASHINGTON (AP) — Despite heavy production of half dollars, the Treasury Department is still unable to meet the entire demand for the coin bearing President John F. Kennedy's likeness.

Robert A. Wallace, assistant secretary of the Treasury, said yesterday all indications are the half dollar continues to increase in circulation although it's still in short supply.

The future of the half dollar—and Treasury officials insist it has a future—will be discussed anew March 1 by the Joint Commission on the Coinage.

Pressure has been exerted by industries which use silver to remove it from the half dollar but such a move would require congressional approval.

Halves, the Treasury feels, have been saved as mementoes of the late president but they are also a handy way for individuals to save money by storing them in a desk drawer.

Saving the new halves for their silver content, officials feel, is useless since the price would have to rise to $3.38 an ounce before a new half dollar would be worth 50 cents in silver. Silver has been bringing about $1.95 an ounce in recent months in market sales.

BACK IN COURT — Ed Gein (right) is escorted to court in Wautoma, Wis., to stand trial in a grisly murder case that stirred national headlines a decade ago. An attorney was named yesterday to represent Gein, only recently declared mentally competent to stand trial. (AP Wirephoto)

Wisconsin Court Revives 10-Year-Old Murder Case

WAUTOMA, Wis. (UPI)—The gray-haired little man of 61 walked into the small town courthouse and seemed to smile nervously, aware of the stares of the curious.

Ed Gein — one-time recluse and handyman of tiny Plainfield who stirred a national sensation a decade ago when he was accused of two murders and moonlight grave robberies—was back in town to stand trial.

Circuit Judge Robert H. Gollmar of Baraboo, determined that this courtroom would not become a circus ring, conducted Monday's 38-minute hearing with clinical precision.

Gollman appointed William Belter, Waushara County assistant district attorney, to represent Gein, who last month was adjudged by doctors at Central State Hospital as mentally competent to stand trial.

Belter, who was Gein's court-appointed attorney 10 years ago when he was committed to Central State, resigned the district attorney's job to take the appointment.

Gein, somewhat heavier and considerably grayer than in 1958, was neat and conservative in a gray suit, white shirt with red and blue striped tie.

He sat rigidly and answered all but one of four or five questions with a "yes" or "no."

His longest reply was to why he asked for Belter.

"I think Mr. Belter is an honest man," he said softly, in a somewhat high-pitched voice.

In his appearances a decade ago he was dressed in hunting gear, and seemed wild-eyed and confused.

Gein and Plainfield made international headlines in November, 1957, when the body of Mrs. Bernice Worden, Plainfield, was found hanging in a shack next to Gein's home. She had been "dressed out like a deer," authorities said.

Gein allegedly confessed to killing Mrs. Worden and also Mary Hogan, a 54-year-old divorced tavernkeeper, in 1954. Authorities said the Gein home contained human skulls, death masks and furniture made from human remains.

Gein was quoted as saying he got the body parts on moonlight raids on area graves.

Venue Argument Delays Trial

UKIAH (AP) — The trial of two Washington state youths accused of murder, kidnap and rape has been continued a week pending California Supreme Court action on a change of venue notion.

Judge John P. McMurray granted the continuance yesterday for Thomas Braun and Leonard Maine, both 19, of Ritzville, Wash. Judge McMurray, of Inyo County, acted favorably on the petition for continuance after two Mendocino County judges earlier had denied a defense motion for a change of venue, which is now before the State Supreme Court.

Braun and Maine are charged with last August's slaying of Timothy Luce, 17, son of the Lake County district attorney, and with the attempted murder, kidnaping and rape of young Luce's companion, Susan Bartolomei.

Lumber Firm Threatens To Sue Over Ads

PORTLAND, Ore. (UPI)—Georgia-Pacific Corp. threatened yesterday to sue the Sierra Club unless the conservation organization ceases what it called its "malicious distortion" of the company's redwood logging operations in Northern California.

The Sierra Club has sponsored a series of newspaper advertisements throughout the nation charging Georgia-Pacific with logging in areas under consideration for a national redwood park.

R. B. Pamplin, president and board chairman of Georgia-Pacific, said yesterday, "Congress should immediately conduct a full investigation of the Sierra Club and the vendetta tactics being employed by the club."

The statement was made in a letter to Dr. Edgar Wayburn of San Francisco, president of the Sierra Club.

Pamplin charged that claims made in the Sierra Club ads were "lies" and represented "hysterical indifference to the facts." He listed as "misrepresentations" Sierra Club contentions that Georgia-Pacific was preparing full-scale clear-cut logging in the Northern California redwoods.

"If the club's continued and malicious distortion of the facts of this important issue continues, Georgia-Pacific, in its own defense, will be compelled to sue the Sierra Club," Pamplin said.

Pamplin listed among the "misrepresentations" which he attributed to the Sierra Club:

"You state that our road building is preliminary to full-scale clear-cut logging." G-P is not, and does not intend to clear-cut in the redwoods. Our redwood timber is harvested on a selective basis and is on sustained yield.

"You state 'after tremendous public pressure, G-P and three other logging concerns agreed to halt logging — until the senate had acted to define the boundaries.' G-P voluntarily understood this moratorium — and we are continuing the moratorium on the lands selected by the Senate."

Reagan Says University Due More Money

SACRAMENTO (AP) — Gov. Ronald Reagan disclosed today that the controversial state appropriation to the University of California will be "considerably more than" $270 million — but less than the $311 million sought by the educators.

The governor reiterated at his weekly news conference that scarcely a single department of state government will receive the appropriation it wants.

RECORD BUDGET

Reagan's budget for the year beginning July 1, expected to total a record $5.4 billion, will be submitted to the Legislature early next month. The Capitol is awaiting word on whether his allocations for the university and the state colleges will stir the fireworks they did last year when he made major cutbacks. Reagan had no comment about the state colleges.

He was asked about a report that some university regents had decided last Friday to oppose a $156 fee increase after they began to suspect the university's appropriation would be only $270 million.

'MANY INACCURACIES'

"That was only one of many inaccuracies in that story," Reagan replied. He added that the state is not counting on additional revenues from a proposed student fee increase in calculating the appropriation of more than $270 million.

Reagan discussed at length the constitutional requirement that regents of the university be appointed for 16-year terms.

"You pay off on touchdowns," said Reagan—commenting that "this great multi-university" was built by regents serving long terms.

"I would hesitate to make changes," he said. He also said he had "made no decision" on whether to reappoint two regents whose terms expire next year.

They are Laurence J. Kennedy of Redding and Einar O. Mohn of Burlingame, appointed by former Democratic Gov. Edmund G. Brown to fill unexpired terms.

Reagan defended regents policy permitting closed meetings to consider personnel matters and pending lawsuits. It would be "the height of folly" to open such meetings to the public, he said.

Japanese Tell Anti-Cancer Discovery

TOKYO (AP) — Officials of a pharmaceutical company reported today that a Japanese research team has developed a drug which cured a cancer in the roof of a man's mouth and achieved "encouraging" results in clinical tests on other cancer patients at the Kanazawa University Hospital.

In some cases, officials of the Chugai Pharmaceutical Co. said, the drug has produced a "drastic" improvement and in others "slow" results.

The research team is headed by Prof. Hajime Okamoto, director of the department of pharmacology at Kanazawa University. The team has worked in collaboration with the Chugai company, which said it has marketing rights on the new drug.

Performance Of Spacecraft Called Perfect

CAPE KENNEDY, Fla. (AP) — The ugly-duckling spacecraft built to set Americans on the moon—Lunar Module 1—performed so gracefully in yesterday's maiden flight that the next one launched probably will be used by men, top space agency officials said today.

"This was a remarkably good next step on the way to the moon," said Dr. George Mueller after the debut trip of the last piece of hardware to be qualified for the lunar journey. Mueller is the National Aeronautics and Space Administration's associate administrator for manned spaceflight.

Mueller and his colleagues were so pleased that they all but ruled out a proposed duplicate test in late spring, opening the way for Apollo astronauts to use the next lunar module in a deep space exercise early in 1969, year of the moon.

The seven-hour, 52-minute flight was flawed only by an abbreviated firing of the rocket to be used to make a gentle moon landing.

As the orbiting moonship coasted over the Indian Ocean, that engine started up. But a touchy computer aboard sensed low fuel pressure and shut it off. Mueller said an astronaut in the ship could have whipped the problem in no time flat. "Unfortunately, there wasn't a man there," he said.

At the Manned Spacecraft Center in Houston, controllers reached for an anthology of emergency mission plans for a trip the space agency warned in advance was too risky to follow a rigid course.

The alternate scheme they chose was based on an old and less ambitious flight plan, but was an initiation tough enough to qualify the ship for astronauts.

On the second try, the backdown engine performed at full thrust and then at 10 per cent of full thrust, exactly as controllers told it to. The change of plan ruled out a test of how it would work at thrust rates in between.

Then, in the most crucial checkout, the craft's getaway engine began firing while the descent rocket still burned. This "fire in the hole" test duplicated the procedure astronauts would follow in lifting away from a potentially hazardous lunar touchdown. The lunar module passed it perfectly.

A bonus experiment in the flight involved dumping of leftover propellant from the Saturn's top stage, a plan to be followed by the astronauts in the post-lunar era to convert expended rocket stages into orbiting laboratories.

Synanon Resident Given Probation

Raymond George Menjou, 20, who pleaded guilty to burgling the home of Ruth J. Bannon at 26 Echo Avenue, Corte Madera, Nov. 8, was given a suspended sentence of one year in county jail yesterday.

Superior Court Judge Harold J. Haley placed Menjou on probation for three years with the condition that he serve 90 days in jail.

He stayed execution of that jail time for as long as Menjou continues to reside with Synanon.

The county probation office reported that Menjou's troubles stem, in part, from the use of methedrine, a drug he has avoided since moving in with Synanon.

Jailed In Theft

CAPTURED WARSHIP — This is a Pentagon photo of the U.S.S. Pueblo, navy intelligence vessel with 83 men aboard, captured early today by North Korean military forces.
(AP Wirephoto)

of the Senate Armed Services Committee said the seizure amounted to "an act of war." He urged President Johnson to take "a very strong position in demanding release of the ship and return of the men."

North Korea, in a broadcast picked up by U.S. monitors, claimed the American ship was "carrying out hostile activities" in North Korean territorial waters when it was captured.

But Defense Department officials said the Pueblo was in international waters in the Sea of Japan 25 miles off the North Korean coast at the time of the raid.

The Communist broadcast said, "Our naval vessels engaged in patrol duty on the spot captured the armed vessel of the U.S. imperialist aggressor force and the entire crew, resolutely defying the counterattack."

The Pueblo was said to be armed only with two 50-caliber machine guns and a Pentagon statement said it did not fire its weapons.

The Defense Department said it had received no word from the Pueblo, which it acknowledged to be an intelligence-gathering vessel, since it radioed it had come to "all stop" and was going off the air shortly after midnight EST.

The Pentago said the Pueblo carried oceanographic equipment. This would include depth sounding and underwater topographical equipment as well as electronics and communications gear.

The Pueblo reported it was first challenged by a single North Korean patrol boat at about 10 p.m. EST yesterday, the Pentagon said.

The Communist vessel messaged in international signals requesting the Pueblo's identity. The Pueblo replied it was an American ship.

The Communist ship then demanded: "Heave to or I will open fire on you."

The Pueblo replied: "I am in international waters" and refused.

The Communist boat did not carry out its threat to open fire but called for help. An hour later, three additional armed patrol boats and two MIG jets were reported spotted by the Pueblo crew.

The Pueblo reported that the ships surrounded it and the MIGs started circling menacingly off its starboard bow.

Subsequently, the Pentagon said, "a patrol craft began backing toward the bow of the Pueblo with fenders rigged.

"An armed boarding party was standing on the bow. The Pueblo radioed at 11:45 p. m. that she was being boarded by North Koreans.

"At 12:10 a. m. EST today, the Pueblo reported that she had been requested to follow the North Korean ships into Wonsan and that she had not used any weapons."

Meanwhile three American soldiers were slightly wounded today in action against a group of North Korean infiltrators fleeing from Seoul where they staged a daring raid this weekend.

In the first such raid since the end of the Korean war in 1953, a band of North Koreans estimated at 31 men entered the capital this weekend in a plot to assassinate President Chung Hee Park and other leaders.

National police headquarters said the Communist infiltrator, armed with a submachine gun, was killed about 10 miles north of Seoul. Twenty-four other members of the North Korean assassination squad are still at large.

North Viet Unit Crushed At Frontier

SAIGON (UPI)—A handful of GIs led part-time government troops to a crushing victory over a North Vietnamese battalion today in the battle raging along South Vietnam's 40-mile-long northern frontier, military spokesmen said.

The government militia—regional and popular force—troops with their American advisors reported killing at least 250 of about 500 North Vietnamese who tried for two days to grab a strategic position near Khe Sanh, the Marine bastion anchoring the western end of the Allied border defense line.

At the other end of the McNamara line, in the sand dunes of the South China Sea coast, South Vietnamese regular army troops killed at least another 159 North Vietnamese and Viet Cong they trapped Monday, spokesmen said.

Today U.S. Air Force B52 Stratofortresses, the massed artillery of the American Army and Marines and 7th Fleet warships offshore joined in what military spokesmen termed a massive bombardment of the three North Vietnamese divisions poised at the border's Demilitarized Zone (DMZ).

In another war-related action 65 Saigon University professors today appealed to both sides in the Vietnam war to extend indefinitely the coming Lunar New Year truce and begin immediate peace negotiations.

The Allied forces announced last weekend they would cut the Tet truce from 48 to 36 hours. They said they took the action because of evidence of Communist plans to use the period for troop and supply movements into South Vietnam.

Also from Saigon it was reported two American civilians were killed by a Viet Cong road mine and a Korean civilian working for the same firm was critically wounded in a separate terrorist attack.

The Americans were Arnold A. Issacson, 34, of Renton, Wash., and Howard W. Andree, 47, of Sacramento, U. S. spokesman said. They worked for Pacific Architects and Engineers, Inc.

Spokesmen said the two were killed yesterday when a pickup truck in which they were driving struck a mine on a road between My Tho and Dong Tam, in the Mekong Delta.

dreds of dollars," but the $50,000 paid by Glanister was called extraordinary.

Glanister lives in an apartment building at 825 Geary Street, San Francisco, and the gallery said it would not release his private phone number.

"He is a retired man, quite wealthy, who is a collector of paintings, old coins and other things," said Edward J. Cory, operator of the gallery. "He's been buying paintings at the gallery for about a year and a half and he has always admired this painting by Cucaro.

"I was offered $5,000 for the painting about two years ago and turned it down," said Cory. "Finally, Glanister offered me $20,000 for it and I said no, it would cost him $50,000. He wrote out the check."

With its press release on the sale of the picture, the gallery included a photostat of a check from Glanister for $52,500 (including sales tax) drawn on the Chartered Bank of London, San Francisco.

"Glanister is an Englishman, and I think he comes of noble blood," said Cory.

Cucaro, who lives in Sausalito with his wife, Kitty, and daughter, Angelique, began painting after World War II.

The gallery is using "Angelique — Child of Peace" on its stationary and business cards and has made a print from the painting.

The gallery said sale of the 12-by-16-inch picture was the largest single sale in its 12-year history.

Cory has an exclusive contract with Cucaro to sell his paintings. Cory declined to state exactly how much the artist would make on the sale, but said Cucaro would get more than half.

"When I told Cucaro about the sale, he had a funny reaction," said Cory. "He just asked me if I had gotten those canvasses for him that he had asked for.

"The art market has really gone crazy. I think it has something to do with what's happening to the gold market. It's hard to tell what a painting is worth."

Woman Defies Would-Be Young Bandit

An attempted armed robber in Marin City Friday turned into a test of nerve and a dialogue on civil rights, according to a sheriff's office report released today.

Leigh L. Lucas, 59, who is white and lives at 89 Cole Drive, Marin City, was walking in the 200 block of Drake Avenue when a Negro boy, about 17, walked up and said: "I want your money."

"I don't have any money," she snapped. "If I had any money do you think I woould walk a half a mile?"

"Oh, you don't like our community," he said.

"Oh yes I do. This is my community also," Mrs. Lucas responded.

"It is not," he said.

"Who said so," she demanded.

"The colored people say so."

With that, the boy pulled a small, chrome-plated pistol from his chest pocket and pointed it at Mrs. Lucas.

"See what I have. I'm going to shoot your," he said.

"Go ahead and shoot," she said.

"You'd better run across the street," he warned.

Mrs. Lucas turned and walked across the street. Her young assailant ran behind a nearby building and disappeared.

Mrs. Lucas and sheriff's deputies drove around the community later in the day, but never caught sight of the boy.

Sources in Bangkok and Vientiane, the Laotian administrative capital, say the trail is well defended with antiaircraft weapons and some surface to air (SAM) missiles.

Thanom's statement to Thai reporters said the U.S. bombing of Laos was benefiting Thailand.

He said that when U.S. planes carry out air strikes against North Vietnam and Laos "bombing and destroying routes used by the North Vietnamese for transport of their forces," they helped protect Thailand.

HEAVY POWER UNIT FOR MEXICO

The nation's biggest mobile electric generator, built by A.G. Schoonmaker Co., left Sausalito by rail last night, bound for a 15-day journey to Mexico. The 48-feet long, eight feet wide, 130,500-pound monster will create more electricity for Mexico's tourist season at Acapulco and later be moved to other parts of the country as needs arise.

Underground Utility Fund Is Outlined

Pacific Gas and Electric Co. has budgeted $228,100 for use in undergrounding utility lines in Marin County for the 1968 fiscal year, a PG&E official told the Marin County Planning Commission yesterday.

Donald Johnson of Novato, North Bay district manager for PG&E revealed that $73,600 of that amount is earmarked for use in the unincorporated areas of the county.

COMMITTEE URGED

On a motion by Commissioner Margaret Azevedo, the planning commissioners unanimously voted to recommend to the board of supervisors that a committee be set up to lay out a program for undergrounding of lines. The committee should include representatives from the board of supervisors, the county planning commission, PG&E, telephone companies, and appropriate county department heads, the commissioners suggested.

"The county can direct us where to spend the money," said Johnson. "We feel the direction has to come from county officials."

As a sample of the cost of undergrounding utility lines, Johnson said that a one-mile strip along South San Pedro Road would cost $173,000.

If the county or a city does not use the amount designated for 1968 in one years, the balance can be carried over into the following year, said Johnson.

The amount of undergrounding money allocated to each unincorporated area or city is in proportion to the number of customers Johnson explained.

CITIES' SHARES

Under that formula, the amounts of undergrounding funds budgeted to the various cities in Marin for 1968 are as follows:

Belvedere $3,200; Corte Madera $10,700; Fairfax $9,700; Larkspur $10,400; Mill Valley $15,500; Novato $23,000; Ross $2,900; San Anselmo $16,400; San Rafael $44,600; Sausalito $11,700; Tiburon $6,400; unincorporated area $73,600; grand total for the county $228,100.

Black Point Rezoning Voted For Hover Land

Forty acres of light industrial area owned by Black Point dredger Charles Hover was approved for planned industrial zoning yesterday by the Marin County Planning Commission.

The remainder of Hover's 130-acre holding along the Petaluma River, including Day's island, should be rezoned to 10,000-square-foot minimum residential, with cluster development allowed, the planning commissioners decided.

Commissioners postponed until Feb. 5 the proposed rezoning of 27 acres of state-owned tidelands along the Petaluma River between the railroad tracks and Highway 37 bridge. Presently zoned for light industrial, the area contains wharves, arks and fishing shacks owned by abutting landowners.

The planning staff recommended that the zoning be changed to agricultural or resort commercial. The commission decided to postpone action because the county parks and recreation staff is studying the area for recreation possibilities.

Marin County Planning Commission Also:

CONVALESCENT HOSPITAL — Amended the San Geronimo Valley Master Plan to allow construction or expansion of a convalescent hospital at 170 San Gernonimo Valley Drive, Woodacre. A 15-bed convalescent home now exists. The master plan designates the area as commercial-recreational.

SERVICE STATION — Approved a variance and a use permit to allow Tom E. Nowell to build a service station at the northeast corner of Bolinas and Parepa streets near the heliport on Richardson Bay.

SYNANON — Approved the continuation of a use permit for Synanon Foundation ot operate at Marshall. A review of the use premit was required by a condition of the original grant in 1965.

MOBILE PARK — Continued until Feb. 5 a request by G. E. and Alice J. Sandbach for mobile park zoning for an 11.8-acre parcel on the south side of San Marin Drive, Novato.

LAWSON'S LANDING — Approved rezoning 150 acres at Sand Point, Dillon's Beach, from agricultural to rezort commercial. The owner, Merle E. Lawson, is using the area for trailer parking and boating facilities, which are illegal under agricultural zoning. County Planning Director Paul C. Zucker said the rezoning will correct the zoning violations, and "the applicant appears to be attempting to correct the violations."

GROCERY STORE — Continued until Feb. 5 a request by Kenneth Niles to build a new grocery store at the southwest corner of Shoreline Highway and Laurel Street, Tamalpais Valley.

NERO SIGN — Extended for one year a use permit for an 18-square-foot sign in the middle of the existing "Nave Lanes — Nero's" sign at 5800 Redwood Highway, Novato. Commissioner Hugh Dougherty explained that within a year, a revised sign ordinance with provision for phasing out non-conforming signs should be drawn up. Commissioners decided to discuss a revised sign ordinance on March 18 or April 1.

MOBILE PARK ZONING — Set March as the time to discuss the possibility of amending the mobile park zoning ordinance, allowing the use of single-family homes as a buffer area within a mobile home park.

Felon In Dope Case Sentenced

Frank Munoz Becerra, 40, admitted in Marin Superior Court yesterday that he possessed heroin at San Quentin Prison Sept. 24 and was sentenced to five to 20 years in prison for the offense.

Becerra, now serving a term for possessing heroin, was carrying the drug when prison authorities searched him as he returned from the visiting room.

Judge Harold J. Haley said Becerra will begin serving the new term when his present sentence runs out.

Rose To Ask Residents About Sidewalk Costs

City Mgr. Lawrence D. Rose was directed by the Tiburon City Council last night to ask property owners along Tiburon Boulevard whether they want to pay for a sidewalk extension in connection with drainage repairs.

The council awarded a $7,934 contract to Ghilotti Brothers of San Rafael on Jan. 9 for the drainage work, which was to include construction of a short sidewalk from Main Street past the bus depot.

Councilmen last night expressed support for extending the sidewalk to Tiburon Lodge, but learned from City Engineer Ray W. Foreaker the work would cost an extra $8,500. The council said Rose should ask the property owners whether they would be willing to pay for the added work.

Meanwhile, the council voted 3-0 to continue the drainage project with the partial sidewalk.

Councilman Thomas E. Drohan was absent due to illness and Councilman Branwell D. Fanning was out of the country.

The Tiburon City Council Also:

ASSESSMENT DISTRICT — Adopted unanimously eight resolutions to establish an assessment district for improvements in El Marinero subdivision, presented by attorney Edwin N. Ness, for a bond issue of $282,874. A contract for the construction was awarded to low bidder Ghilotti Bros. at $136,620.

NEW SIGNATURE — Authorized new Councilman Rampton W. Harvey's signature for bank cards, to replace those of former Councilman Gordon W. Strawbridge.

APPOINTMENT — Approved unanimously Mayor John S. Hoffmire's nomination of Victor C. Banks, real estate appraiser, of 2344 Mar East Street, to fill the vacancy left on the planning commission when Harvey resigned to accept council appointment.

WATERFRONT PARKING LOT — Continued again an application by the Tiburon Peninsula Co. for a use permit for a parking lot on the waterfront and noted it first came before the council a year ago.

BELVEDERE REQUESTS — Heard Belvedere's proposal that the two cities purchase a piece of Tiburon Peninsula Club property for a joint corporation yard. Mayor Hoffmire directed Councilmen Bremer and Harvey to study the proposal, as well as another from Belvedere asking for realignment of the Tiburon-Belvedere boundary to include in Belvedere seven residences between San Rafael Avenue and Lagoon Road.

Reagan Fills Bay Transit Study Seats

SACRAMENTO (AP) — Gov. Ronald Reagan has appointed three others to the San Francisco Bay Area Transportation Study Commission.

New appointees to four-year terms yesterday were:

B. John Bugatto, 33, San Francisco attorney and a Republican.

M. F. Bagan, 48, Piedmont Republican, helicopter airlines president who will become the commission's vice president.

Candidates Sought On Marin City Board

The Marin City Community Services District board has issued a call for candidates for the board to fill the spot vacated by Gabe Jackson, who resigned on grounds he could not devote the required time to district affairs.

Residents of Marin City can apply for the post by applying at the district office, 640 Drake Avenue, or contacting chairman Jesse E. Berry. The board will appoint the new member Feb. 15. The term will expire in June, 1970.

Welfare Shift Could Slash Property Tax

There would be a substantial dip in Marin County's property tax rate if the state assumed county welfare costs, not including medical payments, according to the California Taxpayers' Association.

If the county's share of such welfare costs, $2,148,364 were financed by the state, the property tax rate would decrease 45 cents per $100 assessed valuation, the association reported.

$2.1 MILLION OFF

Michael Mitchell, Marin County auditor-controller, estimated that a $2.1 million reduction in county costs would result in a decrease of about 40 cents in the tax rate.

Marin County's tax rate for 1967-68 is $2.30 per $100 assessed valuation.

Two bills have been introduced to provide property tax relief through state assumption of present county welfare burdens, the association reported.

Both bills aim at using the $155 million set aside by the Legislature in last year's tax bill to provide property tax relief, the association said.

STATEWIDE EFFECT

The reduction on property taxes would range from nine cents in Mono County to $1.15 in Mendocino, the association contended.

The total welfare budget for Marin is $7,415,281, which represents 25.9 per cent of the county budget; the association reported. The federal government's share of this total is $3,353,875, the state's share, $1,913,042, and the county's share, $2,148,364, it noted.

Its study did not include medical payments but included all other welfare costs which could be identified in county budgets, the association reported.

TOTAL COSTS

Throughout the state total welfare costs for fiscal 1967-68, excluding medical payments, will be $1.2 billion with $582.5 million in federal funds, $418 million in state funds and $229.2 million in county funds, the association.

In other counties the percentage of welfare costs to budgets ranged from 48.7 per cent in San Bernardino to 5.5 per cent in Mono.

In the Bay Area the percentages were Napa, 35.6; San Mateo, 28.4; Contra Costa, 39.9; Sonoma, 39.2; Alameda, 39.4; Solano, 42.9; and Santa Clara, 41.1 There was no percentage listed for San Francisco County.

POLITICAL ANALYSIS

Tax Surcharge Vs. Primaries

WASHINGTON (AP) — A Massachusetts Democrat on the House Ways and Means Committee says President Johnson will get his proposed tax hike at least two months late—if he gets it at all.

And, Rep. James A. Burke told administration witnesses yesterday, "You'd better put in a few sweeteners to have any chance at all."

Burke gave a frankly political analysis of the outlook to Secretary of the Treasury Henry H. Fowler, Budget Director Charles L. Schultze and other spokesmen for the proposed 10 per cent income tax surcharge.

He said an increase next year would come on top of a hike in the Social Security tax, already in effect, and "when you cut a man's pay twice in one year—look out."

"One of your problems," Burke went on, "is that many of us members face primaries before June 1. I tell you, I don't see much chance of passage before then."

Burke was the only Democrat at the opening day of the committee's sessions to predict trouble for the bill. But several Republicans were critical, contending the administration was not economizing enough to insure that a tax increase would really cut the deficit.

Schultze reeled off cutbacks he said were being made, including some in loans for farms, sewer and water projects and rural electrification; cancellation of some agriculture research projects and closing of research stations and reducing small watershed construction projects.

Other reductions, Schultze said, are being made by stretching out highway spending and construction projects by holding back $600 million from the states, reducing grants for higher education facilities and programs for hospitals, medical schools and other health facilities as well as the aid program for schools in areas impacted with government workers.

College Building Aid Faces Biggest Cutback

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Department of Health, Education and Welfare, cutting its spending by $550 million in the first half of this year on orders from Congress, will take the biggest slice from college and university building aid.

But most of the higher education construction funds will simily be held up until the end of the current fiscal year July 1—unless Congress orders a continued financial holddown.

"A lot of people's plans are being upset," said an HEW budget official of college and university officers, "and they're already letting us know about it."

Officials said most institutions probably will get next fiscal year the money they were expecting this year. But they noted that the possibility state agencies disbursing the funds could give the money to new applicants.

The $450 million that was to have been spent on college and university buildings this year will be cut about one-third, to $300 million, officials said.

And funds for health teaching facilities—mainly medical and dental schools—are to be cut almost as much: $58 million from an authorized $175 million.

Hospital construction funds were left with only slight reductions, officials said, because of the great new need for hospital space generated by the medicare and medicaid programs. A planned $274 million outlay will be reduced by only $11 million.

In elementary and secondary education, the government's $1-billion-a-year program of aid to poor youngsters will not be reduced.

But funds for supplementary education centers, to be administered by the states this year for the first time, will be cut by 10 per cent, or $20 million. Officials noted, however, that amount still will have been increased greatly because of additional money that was authorized.

Federal impact aid—for school districts with federally connected students—will be reduced by about 5 per cent, or $20 million.

In addition to these major spending cuts, HEW since the middle of December has been awarding only a few construction grants each week in order to minimize the inflationary pressures.

The Diet Pill Industry Faces Close Scrutiny

WASHINGTON (AP) — Sen. Philip A Hart says the diet pill industry "sprang up because some few doctors find it more profitable to give pills rather than urge proper diet."

The Michigan Democrat, chairman of the Senate Antitrust subcommittee, said it's a multimillion-dollar industry—"and one about which the American people need information and perhaps protection."

Hart's comments were in a statement at the opening today of his subcommittee's hearings into the diet pill industry.

He said the subcommittee has reason to believe antitrust violations may have occurred in what he termed industry's drive for profits.

And interwoven with these legal questions, he said, are others involving the health and safety of millions of verweight Americans.

Dr. Frederick Wolff, director of research at the Washington Hospital Center, warned of the dangers of amphetamines, described by Hart as the primary drug used by diet doctors.

Dr. Norman D. Gross, a family physician from Hartford, Conn., said obese persons are "in far greater danger from improper weight control methods and the use of potent combination drugs than the inherent dangers of being overweight."

"NOT RUDE" — Singer Eartha Kitt tells a Los Angeles news conference she has not thought of apologizing for her White House speech which moved Lady Bird Johnson to tears. (AP Wirephoto)

Eartha Not Apologizing, Cites 'Beautiful' Letters

LOS ANGELES (AP) — "I feel the people feel that what I said was good," says Eartha Kitt, whose protest about the Vietnam war stunned White House luncheon guests.

Critics said the singer's speech Thursday was rude and ill-timed.

Miss Kitt told a news conference yesterday: "I was not rude. I raised my hand and asked to be heard. I was recognized by the First Lady in order to give my opinion.

At the luncheon Miss Kitt told 50 women invited to discuss crime and juvenile delinquency that the war is to blame for such social problems.

Since her speech, Miss Kitt said, she has received many letters commending her.

"The letters have been beautiful," she said. "The people whom I have heard from—their opinion is that what I said was right. They are behind me 100 per cent."

In Washington the White House said it has received about 1,900 letters on the incident, most of them deploring Miss Kitt's conduct.

Asked if she might apologize to Mrs. Lyndon Johnson, Miss Kitt replied: "Since I don't feel I have done anything wrong, I haven't given any thought to it."

Of Mrs. Johnson she said, "I have respect for her position . . . She's a mother just as I am. I can understand why she would be emotional."

Edgar Eugene Bradley has been named by Garrison as part of a conspiracy to kill the late President.

Greece's Junta Wins Apparent Nod From U.S.

ATHENS (AP) — The United States resumed normal diplomatic contacts with Greece today, indicating it had formally recognized the ruling military junta.

U.S. Ambassador Philips Talbot called on Foreign Minister Panayiotis Pipinelis at noon. Asked by newsmen if this constituted recognition of the Greek regime by the American government, Talbot replied: "This is really the resumption of normal diplomatic contacts."

SECOND FRIEND

The United States was the second of Greece's allies in the North Atlantic Treaty Organization to extend recognition to the military dictatorship despite King Constantine's continued absence in self-imposed exile in Rome.

Turkey, another NATO member, extended its recognition Saturday.

After the military coup last April, the U.S. government took the position that its maintenance of diplomatic relations with Greece did not constitute implied approval of the coup since its ambassador was accredited to the chief of state—King Constantine—and not to the government in power.

U. S. POSITION

After the failure of the king's attempt to oust the junta in mid-December and his flight to Rome, the junta named Lt. Gen. Yeoruios Zoitakis regent for the king. This put the U.S. position in doubt.

The State Department hedged, withholding recognition of the junta and Zoitakis. A department spokesman said Talbot had been in touch with the regime informally but this did not in any sense constitute recognition.

British Prime Minister Harold Wilson at the same time told the House of Commons his government's relations with Greece were "no longer valid" because the king had left the country, but he said the British government was studying the whole question.

Merchants Claiming Rioting Hurt Trade

SASEBO, Japan (AP) — Sasebo merchants, expecting $2.2 million in spending by sailors from the U.S. aircraft carrier Enterprise, blame student rioting against the nuclear-powered ship's visit for the $167,000 they estimated they took in.

The Sasebo Chamber of Commerce and Industry noted today that crewmen from the 75,000-ton carrier and her nuclear-powered escort ship, the frigate Truxton, were restricted to the U.S. naval base in Sasebo for portions of two days of their four-day visit to the southern port.

Suspect Denies Any Murder Connections

His attorney, William O. Weissich, demanded an immediate preliminary hearing on the charge and asked Judge Hadden W. Roth to restrain Sheriff Louis P. Mountanos from transferring Sommerhalder from county jail to San Quentin Prison.

Sommerhalder told the judge there was a rumor among jail inmates that he was to be transferred to the prison.

"He is in the custody of this court and should remain at the jail unless there is a showing of some security risk," Weissich said.

Undersheriff Sidney Stinson said he was considering the transfer because there are now seven murder suspects in the jail.

"There are so many in here now that trying to keep the murder suspects separated from the general jail population is a real problem," Stinson said.

Judge Roth postponed the question when Stinson reported there are no plans to transfer Sommerhalder to the prison right away.

He scheduled a preliminary hearing on the murder charges for 9:30 a.m. Friday and Weissich asked that the whole day be set aside for the hearing, saying Sommerhalder must either be held to answer in Superior Court or released within five days.

Sommerhalder and Kenneth Allen Preston, 20, both of Santa Rosa, are accused of killing Curtis O. Ackley, 27, and his wife, Shirley, 34, in their house trailer near Smith Ranch Road, Las Gallinas. Preston's case has been continued until next Tuesday.

Ackley was shot four times. His hands were taped behind him and a pillow slip pulled over his head. Mrs. Ackley was raped, strangled, stabbed twice in the back and shot twice in the head.

Novato Group Will Hear Student Exchange Reports

Two exchange students will tell of their experiences at the next public meeting of the Novato Community Ambassadors at 8 p.m. Monday at the conference room of the Bank of Marin at 1400 Grant Avenue, Novato.

They are JoAnne Angeloni, daughter of Mr. and Mr. John Angeloni of 14 Villa Place, Novato, who spent the summer with a Dutch family at Ambacht, Holland, under the Youth for Understanding program, and Manfried Albrecht of Gottingen, Germany, now attending Novato High School as an exchange student.

Homes for foreign exchange students are being sought in the Novato area by the Homes selection committee of the Ambassadors, according to Mrs. Maurice Baldwin, chairman.

Persons applying should have a definite interest in having a foreign exchange student share their home for the 1968-69 school year, Mrs. Baldwin said. The cost is minimal, being basically the board and room for the student. All other responsibilities are shared by the sponsoring organization and the Novato Community Ambassadors, she said.

Students selected have a good command of English and are carefully screened on their personality, adaptability and friendliness, she said.

Since 1958, 24 Novato families have been the hosts to foreign exchange students for one year while the students went to Novato High.

Widow Wins Suit Against Stocks Firm

SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—U.S. Dist. Judge William T. Sweigert has ordered a brokerage firm and its employees to pay an elderly widow $295,000 as a result of "excessive trading" in her account.

The damages, representing commissions paid and interest, were awarded yesterday to Mrs. Herbert Hecht, 76, in her suit against Harris, Upham Co. and Asa V. Wilder, an employee.

Judge Sweigert, following the 10-week trial, noted that Mrs. Hecht originally had turned over $591,000 in cash and blue chip securities to Wilder and that the account's value had dwindled to $251,308. He said that if the original stocks had not been traded, her estate would be worth more than $1 million now.

John Wayne Involved In Big Tax Fuss

WASHINGTON (AP)—Papers on file in U.S. Tax Court show the Internal Revenue Service is trying to collect $250,479.88 in back income taxes from actor John Wayne.

The years 1961 through 1963 are specified in the government claim. The biggest amount involves a loan Wayne is supposed to have received from his former employer, RKO Radio Pictures, and money he paid to his agents.

The actor borrowed $100,000 from RKO at 4½ per cent interest a year, on May 29, 1954, the documents said. The money was to have been paid back in installments over three years.

Wayne's lawyers said the loan was made while he was employed by RKO and that there had been an "informal" understanding it would be repaid out of his salary from a forthcoming film.

But Wayne left RKO after a dispute, charging the company had breached its contract. He then refused to pay the loan until RKO paid him $165,000 in back salary.

The papers filed indicate RKO did not seek to collect the debt after 1958.

Since RKO canceled the debt, the proceeds of the loan are taxable for income tax purposes, the government contends.

Also, the government refuses to allow Wayne to deduct as a business expense more than $20,000 out of $200,000 that he paid to his theatrical agent over a two year-period.

Residents of Santa Venetia were astonished yesterday when a brightly colored balloon rose from the dry fields. The hot air balloon hovered just above the earth as Wylder Production Co. of New York City filmed it for a television commercial. The balloon is owned by William Berry of Concord and flew low at the Smith brothers air strip just north of the Civic Center.

Killing Suspect Questions Slow Judicial Grind

Joaquin Antonio Herrera, accused of the execution-style murder of a San Rafael soldier, protested his innocence in Marin Superior Court yesterday and asked if his case could not be processed through the courts with a little more dispatch.

"Can't it be done quicker," asked the 23-year-old immigrant from El Salvador. He has been in jail since Jan. 11.

"As far as I am concerned, I am innocent of this charge," he told Judge Harold J. Haley.

The judge cautioned Herrera to heed the advice of his attorney, Public Defender Jerome C. Durham. The American legal system is complicated, he said, but Herrera will be brought to trial as soon as possible.

Parking Meter Cut

A double-headed parking meter was cut from its pole at the San Rafael municipal parking lot at Third and Lootens streets early yesterday, police reported. All it contained, estimated officers, was $1.50.

Petition Being Circulated To Save The Old Courthouse

Benjamin Franklin Walton of San Rafael has started circulating a petition to save the county courthouse and is seeking petition carriers.

Walton said he had signatures of 15 persons who want the courthouse preserved and promises of signatures from "several hundred" other persons. He asks that those willing to carry petitions telephone him.

He said he is turning out petitions at his home, 165 Park Street, San Rafael, as fast as his wife can type them.

He plans to collect signatures to give the county supervisors, though he said he realizes the petitions will "not change a thing."

The county will call for sealed bids to sell the property, with it expected to go to developers for construction of a complex of shop buildings.

Walton's petition protests sale of the courthouse to anyone who indends to "deface or demolish the courthouse proper or the existing courthouse square. We believe that the courthouse is of historic value and should be preserved for future generations."

Case Of Gun Collector's Murder Reset For Monday

The case of three men accused of the stomping and beating murder of gun collector Wesley L. Marshall, 68, in his San Rafael apartment Dec. 6, was continued until Monday in Marin Superior Court yesterday.

The accused men, John Arceo, 31, of 347 Cascade Drive, Fairfax; Claude (Frenchy) LeBas, 21, of Long Beach, and Dennis Charles Novotny, 22, of 1554 Grand Avenue, San Rafael, appeared in court to hear the murder charge yesterday.

Also in court was Mary Louise Arceo, 21, wife of John Arceo and accused of driving the getaway car for LeBas when he allegedly robbed Perry's Delicatessen in San Rafael Dec. 11.

Judge Harold J. Haley appointed Thomas P. Boyd to represent LeBas and Robert Smallman to represent Arceo. Novotny's private attorney is William B. Wolfson.

Their cases were continued to allow transcribing of the minutes of the grand jury meeting at which they were indicted.

The men are accused of beating Marshall at his apartment at 142 Bungalow Avenue. The retired contractor died a month after bandits beat him and stole his collection of 10 guns.

Judge Harold J. Haley said he will wait until Monday to consider appointing Smallman also to represent Mrs. Arceo.

$10,000 Award For Chimp Bite

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Actor Ray Walston accepted a $10,000 settlement yesterday before trial of an injury suit he filed after a chimpanzee bit his face four years ago.

The suit alleged Walston, 49, was bitten by the chimp, Jerry, on Sept. 9, 1963 while the television series "My Favorite Martian" was being filmed at Desilu Studios in Hollywood.

Walston sued for $150,000 charging the chimp, who has since died, attacked him without provocation although the owner, Ralph Helfer, had assured him the animal was safe.

Police Contain Juvenile Fight

San Rafael police broke up a disturbance outside the Rafael Theater in Fourth Street Sunday night by citing three juveniles following a short chase through downtown streets.

Two boys, 17 and 14, and a girl, 14, were cited for disturbing the peace.

The girl allegedly admitted she was responsible for stealing $31.50 from the lockers of teenage usherettes at the theater on Saturday, said police. She also was cited for burglary.

Farm Workers Due Pay Hikes Feb. 1

Minimum wages for many farm workers, services firm employees and those employed in interstate commerce will be raised Feb. 1, the U.S. Department of Labor reminded employers today.

Many hired workers on large farms will go from $1 an hour minimum wage to $1.15 an hour.

The rate must be paid by employers who used more than 500 man-days of farm labor in any calendar quarter of the preceding calendar year.

The minimum of $1.15 will apply for a year and on Feb. 1, 1969 will be raised to $1.30 an hour. Hired farm workers are not required to be paid higher wages for overtime work.

Employees of firms in interstate commerce, or making products for interstate commerce or employed by large firms will go from $1.40 to $1.60 an hour minimum and will be paid time and one-half for overtime beyond 40 hours a week.

A rise from $1 to $1.15 minimum also will apply to employees of large hotels, motels and restaurants, laundry and dry cleaning firms, and workers in hospitals, nursing homes, schools and some retail employees not covered before amendment of the minimum wage law in 1966.

Employees will be due time and one-half for overtime after 42 hours worked in a week, instead of the present 44 hours, and will become subject to a 40 hour work week on Feb. 1, 1969.

One reason weasels in a hen house cause so much commotion is that they kill more than they can eat.

Hooded Attacker Beats Union Aide

BALTIMORE (UPI)—A hooded gunman dressed in black beat a Teamsters Union official to the ground with a pipe last night and shot him at point black range.

Joseph Townsley, 41, secretary-treasurer of Teamsters Local 937, survived the attack. He underwent emergency surgery at Johns Hopkins Hospital, after which doctors listed him in satisfactory condition.

Police said there was no apparent reason for the incident. A spokesman for the union, which represents drivers of milk delivery trucks, said there had been no recent labor problems and Townsley "didn't have an enemy in the world."

Weekend Jail Time On Morals Charge

Albert R. Kingman, 49, of 221 Princeton Avenue, Mill Valley, was given a suspended prison sentence Friday and ordered to spend every other weekend for the next six months in jail by Superior Court Judge Samuel W. Gardiner.

Kingman, also placed on five years of probation, pleaded guilty in Superior Court to a charge he exposed himself near Elm Avenue in Larkspur July 24. It was his sixth similar offense, the judge noted.

School Union Breaks Off Talk

SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—The American Federation of Teachers broke off talks with school Supt. Robert Jenkins here yesterday after what a spokesman called "two fruitless sessions."

Hugh MacColl said the sessions lasted an hour each and that they ended when Jenkins "refused to give a simple yes or no answer to a single point in our 92-point program." MacColl said some 40 of the demands are noncost items and that most have been sought for a long time.

The AFT membership will meet Thursday afternoon to debate a strike vote, he said.

Parnis: Distinguish Fad From Fashion

FRILLY BLACK LACE with a short full skirt and contrasting green leather belt is an eye-catching outfit in the show of Mollie Parnis, New York designer, who was in San Francisco yesterday talking about the Spring fashion picture. "We are in the era of the short skirt. The eye is trained to expect it," the designer said.

By BETTY FROST

Mollie Parnis, internationally acclaimed fashion designer, who has been the fashion confidante for ladies of the White House, also has a message for suburban housewives.

"Learn to distinguish between fashion and fad," she said at a press conference at the Mark Hopkins Hotel yesterday. "Fashion is the basis for a wardrobe which should fit your own way of life. Fads waste money."

After the showing of her spring collection at a benefit for LARC, the San Francisco organization which assists retarded children, Miss Parnis spoke forthrightly about the field of fashion in which she has enjoyed a position of eminence for two decades.

He own fashion credo is that styles should be feminine and becoming.

"I'd like to think that my clothes will help a girl catch a beau, or hold on to the one she has," she said, her brown eyes sparkling.

SHE FIRST WENT to the White House at the invitation of Margaret Truman, and later contributed wardrobe items for Mrs. Dwight D. Eisenhower, Mrs. John F. Kennedy, and is now the favored fashion consultant of Mrs. Lyndon B. Johnson.

Even President Johnson is wearing a Parnis creation — a pair of slippers which Miss Parnis made for him as a gift, working out the design of the presidential seal in needlepoint on each slipper.

"I feel that I am a part of history when I see the first lady in one of my dresses," she said.

The New Yorker, who is herself on the international best dressed list, was wearing a cerulean blue wool dress, topped with matching fitted double breasted coat. She wore three strands of pearls, and a handsome gold, pearl and diamond brooch.

In discussing current styles trends she made these observations:

"WE ARE GETTING away from mothers copying the clothes of their daughter. That was sick.

"The grim business of trying too hard to look too young has been replaced by the new youthful outline, emphasizing the high small bosom, straight back, indented waistline, and long legs beneath swingy skirts.

"Why cover up pretty legs with boots? Boots are part of life in cold climates. They are silly in San Francisco. I do approve of the novelty hosiery, which completes the new look.

"Clothes are moving closer to the body. This year you know that there is a girl under that dress. Fabrics are firmer, giving sharp definition of outline. I am using more construction — seams, darts, marked waistlines.

"No woman this spring can get away with a hemline below the middle of her kneecap. It spoils the proportion of the silhouette. We are in the era of the short skirt. The eye is trained to expect it. The degree of height above the knee is where the woman's age, shape and fashion attitude take over.

"THE MIDI SKIRT length is definitely a fad. Yes, I have two midi-length numbers in my show today, but they are for 'at home' wear. I do not recommend that they be worn by anyone larger than a size 10, or over age 25.

"Suits with softly gathered skirts and short jackets are news. These are not the hard-tailored suits of the past. As essential to a woman's wardrobe as her suits, are coat-dress costumes, with a slender look."

Short formals, enbellished with beads, ostrich feathers and sparkling with rhinestones were shown. "These festive frocks are for resort wear and parties. Clothes know no season now, particularly in your Bay Area," the designer said. Despite the trend for short evening dresses, Miss Parnis prefers a "superb long dress" at the right time and place. Many were shown yesterday, sometimes with the dress itself very simple in line and enhanced with an elaborate lace or beaded jacket.

SOME OUTSTANDING Parnis costumes which brought "oohs" from the large audience on Nob Hill yesterday were:

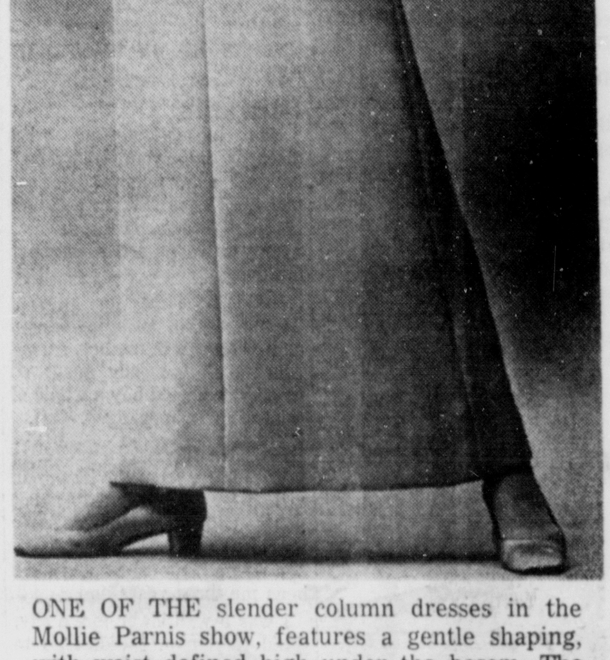
A short woven cotton dress in off-white, with a bolero jacket. The natural waistline was emphasized with the season's favorite background color, brown.

A short black formal with perky skirt, low back accented by an enormous buckle-style circular pin and topped with a short jacket with rhinestone trim on the sleeves.

MOLLIE PARNIS, one of the nation's top fashion designers, presented her Spring collection at a benefit showing in San Francisco yesterday. Famed for her predictions of fashion trends, Miss Parnis spoke of the return to a defined waistline and clothes with shape at a press conference following the LARC show at the Mark Hopkins Hotel.



ONE OF THE slender column dresses in the Mollie Parnis show, features a gentle shaping, with waist defined high under the bosom. The designer used aqua silk crepe. The fabric, the fashion expert said, "is even richer and heavier this season, and more versatile."

THE SUBURBAN SCENE

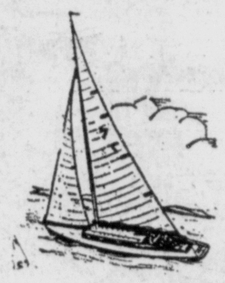
Queen Candidates Plan Style Show

By MOLLY MARIN

Two Mardi Gras Queen candidates, Mrs. Jack Burke of Kentfield and Antoinette Luz of San Francisco, are planning a fashion show on Feb. 19 in the Peacock Room of the Mark Hopkins Hotel in San Francisco.

The event is unique in that all non-profit organizations in the Bay Area are eligible to compete for prize money of $500 and $200 by entering a non-professional model to promenade in fashions by leading designers from a San Francisco boutique. Modeling represents one half of the competition. The other half is the number of members from that organization which attend the luncheon. Following the show, the clothes will be auctioned.

SAN FRANCISCO Yacht Club in Belvedere will be represented by three yachts in the Acapulco Race, which starts off San Diego Feb. 4.



Racing in Mexican waters will be Bohemia, skippered by Peter Salz, Annie Too, with Dr. Emmet Rixford at the helm, and Santana, captained by William Solari.

VACATIONING at Furnace Creek Inn in Death Valley are the R. W. Weitzels of San Rafael.

MRS. H. C. M. Baumann of Greenbrae was hostess at a farewell dinner at her home to honor the Clemens Friedells Jr. of San Carlos, who have leased their house and are moving to Vista in Southern California where he will pursue his architecture business. Party guests included Mr. and Mrs. John R. Malone of San Rafael, Mr. and Mrs. David Porter Edwards of Larkspur and Mrs. George Reeves of San Francisco.

MRS. DARRYL Petersen and children, Steven and Lesley of Mexico City, are visiting her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Roscoe Smith of San Anselmo.

IT'S A DAUGHTER for Lt. and Mrs. Stephen M. Mathews. The little girl, who will be named Kelly Jane, is the couple's first child and made her arrival in Honolulu, where Lt. Mathews, whose home is in Belvedere, is now stationed. The infant has the distinction of having eight living great-grandparents. She is the granddaughter of Dr. and Mrs. Benton Mathews of Belvedere and Dr. and Mrs. George Hickman of Aurora, Ill. Her great-grandparents include Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Mathews of Belvedere and Mr. and Mrs. William B. Greene, who are spending the winter months in the home they own on the Belvedere Lagoon. The Greenes divide their time between Aurora and Marin.

AFTER A TOUR of duty in Vietnam, Capt. Lawrence A. Richards is visiting his parents, Col. and Mrs. Daniel Richards in Tiburon. His wife, who has been studying at the University of Chicago, came West to meet him. The couple spent a few days in Carmel and returned to stay with the family in Tiburon, while the officer awaits future orders.

LIZ AND RICHARD VIEW DESIGN

HELEN HELP US!

By HELEN BOTTEL

Her Parents Are Like Concrete, All Mixed Up And Firmly Set

DEAR HELEN:

My parents are like concrete: all mixed up and firmly set. They are absolutely sure that if a girl stays out after 11 p.m., she'll come home pregnant. They just know if I don't bundle up with a scarf, coat, gloves and wool cap, I'll catch my death on even mild winter days. They are sure every boy is out for no good. They figure people become teachers because they can't hack it in any other work. They insist that all the popular singing groups are on dope, and short skirts are the invention of sex maniacs.

The trouble is, you can't argue with them. If I suggest that they just might have the wrong slant, I'm grounded for a month. I tried it the other day again. I read them statistics on how ice skaters, hockey players, channel swimmers, etc., don't have as many colds as people who always bundle up. I learned better, fast!

Is there any way to unset cement? — CHIP FROM TWO BLOCKS

DEAR CHIP:

No one is harder to unset than the wrong person who is dead sure he's right.

Your parents' rules on dating hours, etc., may wear down gradually, but I'm afraid you're stuck with the cement-type ideas. Don't bat your head against what you know you can't change. You'll get further sanding down the rought spots. —H.

DEAR HELEN:

I figured out the perfect gift a guy can give a girl, if he doesn't know her tastes too well or if she doesn't hand out hints.

Give her a sweater that is two sizes too small for her. She is complimented that you consider her so slim, and if it doesn't fit, she won't hurt your feelings by exchanging it. Just be sure to keep the store receipt, that's all. — DAN

DEAR DAN:

If you're that uninspired, chum, why not do it the easy way? Give her a gift certificate. — H.

DEAR HELEN:

My mother is very strange for nylons. I mean she has a fit every time I get another run. You know, like "All those poor starving people, and here you spend $10 a month on stockings!"

I can't help running them, but maybe if you could suggest a good use for the discards, she wouldn't be so upset. — NYLONS IN MY WASTEBASKET

DEAR NIMW:

How about stuffing the discards into your zipper-covered sofa pillows? At our house, I console myself by saying, "We haven't lost another nylon, we've gained a plumper cushion."

But do try to be more careful. At the risk of sounding like a capital M type of mother, I must observe that money spent on teen nylons could buy a whale of a lot of CARE packages. — H.

DEAR HELEN:

That letter from the freshman girl who daydreamed about going with the student body president but said nobody knew she was alive — she could have been me three years ago.

I was a wallflower too, a shy, timid freshman. I didn't go to school activities, was afraid to join clubs or make friends. Then in my junior year, I blossomed. I learned to use makeup well, got a new hair style, cuter clothes, also a more outgoing personality. It took lots of work and nerve I didn't know I had, but I found something I could do well, and built from there. Today I'm editor of the school paper, popular, and having a ball. Oh, yes, and I finally did catch the student body president!

I hope "Invisible Me" takes your advice, Helen. It works. — NOTICEABLE ME

Right To The End

You can tell a lot about people by the way they squeeze a tube of toothpaste. The extravagant, carefree personality squeezes from the middle of the tube first and then can't get the bottom paste past the center section.

The conservative, penny-wise squeezer ekes out his paste bit by bit, pinching and inching his way upwards. The absent-minded daydreamer leaves the cap off and wonders why the toothpaste dries up so quickly.

No matter how you approach your own tube, it is quite natural for you to want to get as much toothpaste out of it, as there is in it.

In order to accommodate this, you can find key-type tube squeezers in hardware and houseware stores. They also can be used on shampoo, hair oil and cosmetic tubes. Keys can be removed easily, once a tube has been toroughly emptied.

CHOOSING A HOME

What Makes People Tick?

By DOROTHEA M. BROOKS

NEW YORK (UPI)—A family chooses a house—a particular house at a particular time. Why?

What motivates the choice? Who chooses—husband, wife, or is it the children who really govern the decision?

The Project Home Committee—an association of major manufacturers of housing materials engaged the Raymond Loewy-William Enaith organization to delve deeply into motivations toward homes and housing.

The survey was an extensive one, involving a large nationwide sampling, and conducted by means of lengthy personal interview in the respondents, own homes and, in the case of respondents known to be prospects for new housing, by interviews before, during and after a visit to different types of properties.

FOR THE LAYMAN the study provides a wealth of interesting data on what makes people tick when it comes to their homes.

Not the least interesting data is that concerning the male vs. female approach or, as the study puts it, the "clear differences between men and women in the way they regard homes and housing." Isolation and definition of these "markedly different" motivations, the authors found, was the study's "most distinctive contribution."

The differences in approach to choosing a home were revealed most clearly in on-the-spot interviews conducted at the sites of typical model dwellings.

In general, model homes failed to fulfill the expectations and desires of would-be purchasers—but for different reasons. Women registered greater general disappointment than men. They were most disappointed in the ability of the home to meet their standards for the children's care and upbringing and in convenience factors. Men, on the other hand, saw the new dwelling as failing to serve the major masculine needs—ways to express individuality, protection of personal privacy, the display of possessions and the family itself.

WOMEN'S DISCONTENT was directed at particular rooms and functions of these rooms in the home—the kitchen, entrance, recreation room—whereas men reacted to specific features of a home and were permissive of many general faults.

The study covered nine motivational factors as they operate in ten distinct housing markets — newlyweds, first house buyers, the up-grade market of families who already own homes, retirees, two-family house purchasers, house renters, apartment renters, purchasers of condominiums and cooperatives, the new community and the vacation home market.

FINDINGS SHOWED the point of greatest husband-wife agreement about housing occurs at the earliest stages of married life and family formation, and that the agreement diverges significantly as the family matures.

Divergent as their motivations may be when considering such factors as children, privacy, convenience, individuality and independence, use of time, investment, possessions, outdoors and socializing in relation to housing choices, to buy housing, husbands and wives must come to reasonable agreement about what they want.

This agreement, according to the over-all sampling, gives greatest weight to children, privacy and convenience. Children—concern for their health, security, social and educational opportunities—come first with both man and wife until their family has grown and left home.

The first mobile home? A flying carpet?

No, but it was made of carpets, according to a "What You Should Know About Carperts." The book says large tents were made from the carpets, then dismantled and folded when it was time to move to the next place.

Today is Tuesday, Jan. 23, the 23rd day of 1968 with 343 to follow.

The moon is between its last quarter and new phase. The morning star is Venus. The evening stars are Mars, Saturn and Jupiter.

On this day in history:

In 1845 Congress ruled that all national elections shall take place on the first Tuesday following the first Monday in November.

In 1937 17 Communists confessed they had conspired with Leon Trotsky to undermine the regime of Josef Stalin.

In 1948 Gen. Dwight Eisenhower said he would not accept a nomination for President from either party.

In 1965 former British Prime Minister Winston Churchill died.

A thought for the day—George Washington said, "There can be no greater error than to expect or calculate upon real favors from nation to nation."

HOW TO PLAY

A Woman's Intuition Works Far Better Than Mate's Mathematics

"How did you like the way I played that?" my wife asked. "I must admit I'd have gone down," I told her. "Put it in print," she insisted, so here it is.

SPADE LEAD

West opened the ten of spades, and my wife thought long and hard before deciding on the first play from dummy. Then she let the first trick ride around to the queen of spades and led the queen of hearts from her hand.

It was West's turn to think long and hard. Finally, he played low. Now declarer led out the ace of hearts, capturing the king, and led low diamonds until the ace fell. She gave up three diamonds, but nothing else.

"It works even better if he takes the king of hearts," my wife pointed out. "I get to dummy with the six of hearts, and then throw two diamonds on the ace and king of spades. Just how would you have played it?"

BETTER ODDS

My play would be less spectacular. Take the ace and king of spades, discarding a diamond. Then lead a diamond from dummy. If East plays low, put up the king. If East plays the queen or jack, play a low diamond.

This works if East has the ace of diamonds or if he plays an honor from Q-J-x-x (as he probably would). If there is still the chance of capturing a singleton king of hearts.

AN EXPERT?

"Is that a better theoretical chance than my line of play?" my wife asked. You wouldn't believe it possible to hiss the word "theoretical," but she managed it.

"It's very close," I admitted, "But the odds are slightly better my way."

"You have no intuition," she scoffed. "Tell it like it is."

Texas Culture Grew From Varied Sources

AUSTIN, Tex. (UPI)—The state of Texas took shape from many cultures—a native of Virginia drilled the first producing oil well, a Czech immigrant brought in the most famous gusher, the state capitol was designed in the shape of a Greek cross, planned by an architect with a German name, working for a syndicate refinanced by the British.

The capitol stonecutters came from Scotland, much of the labor force from Ireland and the statuary was largely done by an Italian, Pompeo Copini.

Jill Cogswell bargains with goat herder Robert Deckelman for milk to feed a baby she rescued during a palace revolution in "The Caucasian Chalk Circle," a College of Marin drama department production to be presented Friday at 8 p.m. in the College Theater. Vandals Busy In San Rafael, Dixie Schools

Two Marin school districts — Dixie and Terra Linda High School — were victims of vandals and thieves over the weekend, San Rafael police reported today.

Cash stolen and damage to school property totaled more than $165, and private property at $900 was also taken.

Kindergarten room at the adjacent Don Timoteo School was pried open but nothing reported missing, said police.

Edward H. Chapman of Novato, who is constructing the main classroom at Oak View Elementary School on Skyview Terrace — also in the Dixie district — reported shingles were broken on the roof and gravel put down plumber's vents. Damage was estimated at $150.

At Terra Linda High School, thieves took an undetermined amount of money from a file cabinet and desk. The students' store was pried open and $30 stolen.

Electrical equipment belonging to a group called the Pyewacket was stolen following a Saturday dance at the high school, reported the group leader Ronald T. Faircloth of 818-A College Avenue, Kentfield. He estimated value of property at $900.

BAYVIEW'S STATUS

Is The Regular High School Load Suited To San Quentin?

By DON BRANNING

Is the curriculum of a conventional high school suited to the needs of the inmates at San Quentin Prison?

San Quentin's Bayview School is the nation's only accredited high school within prison walls and offers its graduates a standard deploma.

But the prison's Academic Advisory Committee, a body of Marin County educators and businessmen, asked a pointed question last night at the committee's regular meeting at the prision.

Are the Bayview schools, grammar and high schools, concentrating so heavily on keeping their accredited status that their courses don't meet the needs of the average convict?

The schools are up for re-accrediation by the Western Association of Schools and Colleges. Daryl A. Hopkins, principal of the school, said he thought it was time to shake up the curriculum, putting a stronger emphasis on literacy training.

In its report, the curriculum committee commented that outlines for courses taught at San Quentin appear "more interested in skill building and setting up hurdles for the students to jump over than attempting to change attitudes."

Dr. Louis H. Herkenoff, assistant dean of instruction at College of Marin asked, "Should Bayviews schools be just another elementary and high school — exchanging the treadmill of public school for the treadmill of prison school — or should it be so different that it might not even qualify for accreditation?

"Do the courses have any relevance to the person's life? Are there things going on in the classrooms which will keep a person from coming back to San Quentin?" Dr. Herkenhoff said he noticed that in the English courses "there seems to be far too much emphasis on formal grammar, parts of speech and things that appear irrelevant."

The Academic Advisory Committee's chairman, Joseph D. Gargiulo, principal of North Marin High School in Novato, said he agreed that a closer look at the curriculum, but he challenged the thought of abandoning an accredited standing for the schools.

Gargiulo pointed out that only 10 per cent of San Quentin's inmates have high school diplomas and he said, "Almost all of the trade unions' apprenticeship training programs require a high school diploma."

The Academic Advisory Committee also discussed the prison's college credit program, which will come to a halt in June — except for inmates continuing with correspondence courses — when a two-year $99,000 Ford Foundation grant runs out.

There are 145 prison inmates who have won from three to 27 units of college credit under the program, and Hopkins, the Bayview principal, said, "It isn't right for this just to come to an end for these men."

One avenue of solution, Hopkins suggested, would be enabling legislation by the Legislature to allow county school superintendents to offer junior college credit courses.

As it does now for grammar and high school courses, Bayview could contract with the Marin County school system for junior college credit courses, said Hopkins. Available prison funds could be shifted to pay for junior college instruction, and the Legislature might vote additional money for it, he suggested.

Rhubarb Revue Casting Is Set

Casting for the 14th annual Rhubarb Revue will start at 8 p.m. tomorrow in the multi-purpose room of Tamalpais Valley School, director Mrs. Laurie Tusup has announced.

Eligible to try out for the revue, produced by the Tamalpais Valley Improvement Club, are all residents of Tamalpais Valley, Homestead Valley or Almonte with singing, acting, dancing or instrumental talent, Mrs. Tusup said.

The revue will open April 27 at the American Legion Hall, 469 Miller Avenue, Mill Valley, with performances also scheduled May 3-4, 10-11, and 17-18.

Proceeds go into the club's building fund. Construction of a clubhouse is scheduled to start this year.

Ticket chairman is Mrs. Robert M. Glessner of 432 Live Oak Drive, Tamalpais Valley, and the revue box office is listed in the telephone directory.

Novato High Musicians Earn Honor

Four Novato High School musicians have been selected to go to the California State Honor Band three days next month in Fresno, band director John F. Yardas announced today.

The four selected were: Marilyn Rehfeld, Steven Terry, Patrick Magill and Russell Kaufman. They will go Feb. 22 through 25. They will take part in two 110-member bands directed by Dr. Frederick Fennell of Miami State University and Dr. Vernon Read of San Jose State College.

After three days of rehearsal, they will present a concert on Feb. 25, Yardas said.

Miss Rehfeld, a sophomore, is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Eugene O. Rehfeld of 246 San Carlos way; Terry, a senior, is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Paul Terry of 1473 Pastel Lane; Magill, a senior is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Harry T. Magill of 450 Ridge Road and Kaufman, a senior, is the son of Mr. and Mrs. N. D. Kaufman of 725 Sun Lane, all of Novato.

Five School Districts Quit Library Program

The Marin County Schools Office will have five dropouts from its supplementary textbook library program June 30.

Withdrawing will be the Reed, Fairfax, Lagunitas, Ross and Sausalito school districts, who will operate their own supplementary library programs.

The Marin County Board of Education accepted their requests to withdraw at a special session at the County Schools Office in Corte Madera last night.

In their letters the districts didn't criticize the county program, but said they could handle the job themselves.

"We simply desire to conduct our own program," wrote Supt. H. Joe Edgington of the Reed Union School District.

Supt. Virgil S. Hollis reported that the San Anselmo and Kentfield school districts, which had intended to withdraw, decided instead to remain in the county program.

SPENDING CHANGES

The two districts changed their plans after the county schools staff reported that 80 per cent of district funds would be used for purchase of books as compared to 50 per cent in the past.

Hollis said he would have preferred to have all the districts stay in the county program "until unification is achieved," but realized that districts have to build up their own library systems.

Asst. Supt. Stanley Friese said the schools office will purchase, process and distribute the books, but will no longer house them.

START FOR SCHOOLS

Each district withdrawing from the program will receive from the county schools library a minimum of five books for each child enrolled on the first day of the next school year. These are books purchased with district funds.

Board members also adopted a policy for withdrawing from the county schools library service. It requires districts to submit plans for an adequate library program, including personnel and book budget, before requests for withdrawal are accepted.

The County Schools Office also may have one or more districts withdrawing from its educational program for educable mentally retarded pupils.

NOVATO PROPOSAL

At a meeting of the Special Education Committee, preceding the board meeting, Friese reported that the Novato Unified School District plans to operate its own program for educable mentally retarded, and younger pupils in the trainable mentally retarded group.

At the same time, he said, San Rafael City Schools has expressed an interest in setting up its own program for educable mentally retarded. In this event, he said, San Rafael also might provide these services by contract to the Dixie School District.

If all three districts left the educable mentally retarded program, the county schools office would have to re-locate its classrooms and five teachers would have to be re-assigned or released, Friese said. The switch would involve about 60 pupils, he said.

FUNDS RETURN

Friese also reported that because of increased state funds for the kindergarten mentally retarded program the schools office will return $34,672 to the county.

The committee also appointed Lee C. Richardson Jr. as its representative to a Bay Area Social Planning Council meeting to discuss the possibility of setting up an educational program for unmarried mothers.

The administrative services committee, which also met prior to the board session, decided to draw up a resolution on legislation to provide property tax relief.

Mrs. Johnson To Lead Heart Drive

NEW YORK (AP) — Mrs. Lyndon B. Johnson for the fifth consecutive year will be honorary leader of two million volunteers in the February Heart Fund campaign, it was announced Monday by William F. Laporte, the fund's campaign chairman.

On the Feb. 25 weekend volunteers will call on their neighbors for contributions.

The weekend drive last year raised $11 million, accounting for nearly one-third of the $35.9 million raised by the fund in 1967.

Redwood Continues 'Giant Turtle' Tryout

Tryouts for parts in the Redwood High School annual production of "Giant Turtle" will continue this week. The program of poetry reading is tentatively scheduled for the Little Theater in late March.

Martha Orendorf is advisor.

Mildred Coughlin Art

A show of the work of Mildred Coughlin, including her humorous lithographs of Hollywood life on the late '30s, will be held Feb. 6-25th at the Tuburon Gallery, 9 Main Street, Tiburon.

Phoenix Dam On District Agenda

Directors of Marin Municipal Water District will hear a report tomorrow on the reconstruction of Phoenix Dam.

Gen. Mgr. William R. Seeger said the district's reconstruction plans have been approved by the state Department of Water Resources, Division of Safety of Dams.

The board meets at 1:30 p.m. at the district office in Corte Madera.

The upper portion of Phoenix Lake was closed to the public in 1964 when the state condemned the dam's structure as unstable. The lower portion of property was later purchased from the district by the Town of Ross for a public picnic area.

Symphony Cancels Marin Appearance

The San Francisco Symphony has canceled its scheduled concert Saturday at the College of Marin gymnasium, Dr. Eugene A. Farrar, assistant dean of cimmunity education at the college, has announced.

He said recent strike problems by the symphony resulted in its curtailment of college programs.

Community Orchestra Sets Rehearsal Date

The College of Marin Community Orchestra, conducted by John H. Myers, will begin rehearsals for the spring semester at 8 p.m. Jan. 29 in the new Fine Arts Building.

There are openings for instrumentalists in most of the orchestra sections, according to Myers.

CAMOUFLAGED GUN — A camouflaged truck with an antiaircraft gun mounted in the back is one of several pictures taken over the weekend by AP photographer Eddie Adams on the Cambodian side of the Kompong Trabek River across from the South Vietnamese border. Scene is not far from where U.S. has acknowledged a border attack last Thursday in the "heart of battle."

Sausalito Studies Classroom Bids

The Sausalito School District Board last night received three bids for portable classrooms to replace first grade classrooms at Bayside School, but delayed awarding a contract until tomorrow night.

Base bids for six portables, five classrooms and an office unit, were $97,075 by Modulux of Hayward, $97,902 by Speedspace of Healdsburg, and $111,726 by Design Facilities of Los Angeles.

On an alternate to enclose the central area between the portables, Speedspace bid $98,655 and Design Facilities bid $112,776.

The bids were given to the district architect for study. The board will meet at 5:30 p.m. tomorrow to award a contract.

The board awarded a contract to Gillig Brothers of Hayward for a 67-passenger school bus, to be delivered in 60 days. Gillig's base bid was $21,666.75. Only other bidder was Crown Coach Co., Los Angeles, $21,980.

$35,000 Is Asked For Playground

The Mill Valley Parks and Recreation Commission agreed last night to ask for $35,000 in the 1968-69 capital improvement budget to build a children's playground and new restrooms in Boyle Park.

Boyle Park will be the only project sought in this year's budget, the commission agreed.

The commission recommended the city council approve preliminary plans for the park improvements, and asked the council to authorize working drawings to be prepared from funds already available in the 1967-68 budget.

After viewing the medians last week, the commission also asked council to spend $750 in gas tax funds for preliminary plans to landscape the median strips on East Blithedale and Miller avenues, estimated at $17,800.

San Geronimo School Bids To Be Sought

The Lagunitas School District will advertise for bids on its new San Geronimo School on Feb. 14.

Board President Glen E. Twitchell said construction on the new school, an ungraded school for first to third graders, may begin in March, with completion expected for the beginning of the school year next September.

The district has $500,000 budgeted for the school, $230,000 from a bond election and the remainder from a state loan. It will be located on property adjacent to the existing Lagunitas elementary school.

The school trustees heard from Marin County representatives of the Substitute Teachers Association last night and promised to consider a request for a wage increase from the substitutes.

Twitchell said the substitutes get $22.50 a day, and want it increased "to $25 or $27.50."

In other action the Lagunitas School district accepted the resignation of Mrs. Maxine Cantrell, a teacher at the Lagunitas School for the past five years.

Oil Tycoon's Son Divorced; 'Aloof'

LOS ANGELES (UPI) — George F. Getty II, 43, son of billionaire oilman J. Paul Getty, yesterday was divorced by his wife who testified he was "aloof, cold, indifferent and insulting."

Mrs. Gloria Gordon Getty, 37, also testified that Getty, president of Tidewater Oil Co., traveled a great deal but "refused to let me go with him, and when he was home, he stayed to himself."

Superior Court Commissioner Victor J. Hayek approved a property settlement under which Mrs. Getty will receive $4,000 monthly alimony and $1,500 monthly child support.

The couple was married in Beverly Hills in 1951 and separated in 1965. They have three daughters.

Nuclear Blast Leaves Giant Desert Crack

HOT CREEK VALLEY, Nev. (UPI) —A giant thermonuclear explosion, which ripped the foundation of this quiet desert valley last week, cut a 4,000 foot long crack into the level sage-covered terrain.

The Atomic Energy Commission said yesterday that there "always was some subsidence" after an underground nuclear test.

The nuclear explosion opened up a crack along the desert floor in the upper Hot Creek Valley which ranged from 10 to 100 feet wide 3,000 to 4,000 feet long and 3 to 23 feet deep.

The earth's crust collapsed many hours after the test Friday. The crevice was discovered Saturday when government personnel reported for work.

The test Friday was of intermediate yield, meaning it had a maximum force 50 times greater than the atomic bomb which destroyed Hiroshima.

Windows at Ely High School, about 100 miles from ground zero were cracked. However the glass was not shattered enough to fall out of the frames.

Owners of the Brown Hotel at Eureka, Nev., 70 miles from ground zero, said plaster in some of the rooms cracked, but no severe damage was reported.

Backwards Draft Stint Is Ended

MUNICH, Germany (AP) — Marshall Bean, the two-time veteran who got drafted again because he spelled his name backward to escape his creditors said farewell to his life as U.S. Army Pfc. Naeb Llahsram today and started on his journey back to civilian life.

Bean, 32, took an Army bus to Frankfurt with his discharge orders in his pocket. He will fly to New York Wednesday and then go on to Fort Dix to be processed out of the service for the third time.

A spokesman for the 24th Infantry Division said Bean would get a routine discharge without any added compensation.

BORDER INCIDENT

Border Evidence Of Cambodia Chase

By EDDIE ADAMS
Associated Press Photographer

KOMPONG TRABEK, Cambodia (AP) — Newsmen inspecting the area where Cambodia says it repulsed a U.S.-South Vietnamese attack found two bloody bandages, some insect repellent containers marked "U.S." and hundreds of .30-caliber shell casings.

Some of the ground was splotched with dried blood and the trees were shredded and blackened around the bullet-pocked fortified outpost where the press chief of the Cambodian Ministry of Information took newsmen for a briefing on the incident last Thursday.

Cambodian officials say their forces killed three Americans and 20 South Vietnamese who they charge penetrated about 100 yards into Cambodia and fired at Cambodian soldiers who had been sleeping outside the post.

The outpost is northwest of Saigon in an area where the border is poorly marked and disputed, but the U.S. State Department in Washington acknowledged yesterday that a U.S.-South Vietnamese patrol had intruded 75 yards inside Cambodian territory last Thursday.

It sent formal regrets for any Cambodian casualties that may have resulted.

The incident occurred "during the heat of battle," in which the allied patrol was defending itself from Viet Cong gunfire coming from both sides of the border, said Robert J. McCloskey, State Department press officer.

"We regret the intrusion," he said. "It was unintended and undertaken without any hostile intent."

It was the first officially acknowledged case of allied forces applying the principle stated a week ago by Assistant Secretary of State William P. Bundy —that American forces would exercise the right to defend themselves if Communist forces used Cambodia as a base for attacking American forces in Vietnam and as a sanctuary for retreat.

Wooded Valleys Vs. Open Hillsides For A Park

Can State Close Deal For Park?

Should the open, rolling hills of Franks Valley overlooking the Pacific or the wooded knolls surrounding Kent Lake become part of a state park?

State officials announced today that they had agreed to purchase 2,141 acres of land in Franks Valley adjoining Muir Woods National Monument and Mount Tamalpais State Park from the First Christian Church of America, located in Long Beach. (See story page 1.)

But San Rafael real estate agent A. R. Roumiguiere said today he doubts whether the state can close the deal because of the complications of federal income tax liens on the property, the Souza and Brazil ranches.

Roumiguiere last week caused an uproar at the board of supervisors when he suggested it consider advising the state to check another site: 3,000 acres in San Geronimo Valley adjoining Marin Municipal Water District lands and next to Samuel P. Taylor State Park. The land is owned by Carson Realty Co.

Roumiguiere says he will continue urging the supervisors to consider alternatives until the state is able to take over the church-owned property.

He declined to state how much the San Geronimo Valley land would cost, saying only that it would be "substantially less per acre" than the church land.

The choice is between the wide open spaces of the church-owned land, filled often with sunlight, sometimes with rolling white fog, or the deep woods of San Geronimo Valley, less often foggy. Hikers, p i c n i c k e r s, campers could enjoy both.

SUCCESSFUL INVESTING

Compromise Is Best If Stocks Doubted

By ROGER E. SPEAR

Q. Could you explain to me a little about investing? I have never done any and would like to start out with $3,000. Can I ever lose this money and is it as safe as in the bank at 4 per cent? Can I get that much return with safety in stocks and how would I go about contacting the person I would invest with? —J. N.

A. I receive a great many letters like yours and I will try to clarify for you the matter of stock investment. Please first let me say very strongly that all stocks fluctuate, sometimes very widely. No one should ever buy shares without fully understanding that even the best may decline during a broad market sell-off and that some may drop and never come back. If you are concerned solely about safety of principal, your money belongs in the bank, where it will be safe from all variations.

You must realize, however, that savings — like all fixed investments — cannot increase your principal, except through compound interest, and offer you no real protection against the devaluation of the dollar which has continued almost without interruption since World War II. Why no compromise?

Put half your funds into savings and half into Stewart-Warner, yielding 5.3 per cent. This well-managed company has been very successful in smoothing out cyclical changes and the dividend appears thoroughly secure. You can buy it through your bank or through a stockbroker they recommend.

Q. We bought Wellington Fund in 1962 but think we would have been happier with E bonds. When you take out a plan for 10 years, can you drop out? — M. M.

A. Wellington is a fine, conservative fund with an objective of safety of principal rather than fast growth. A contractual agreement is not binding on the holder and dropping it means solely loss of sales commissions paid. If your aim is complete stability, you can obtain this element through E bonds, now yielding 4.15 per cent to maturity.

COMPLETE LIST ON SATURDAYS

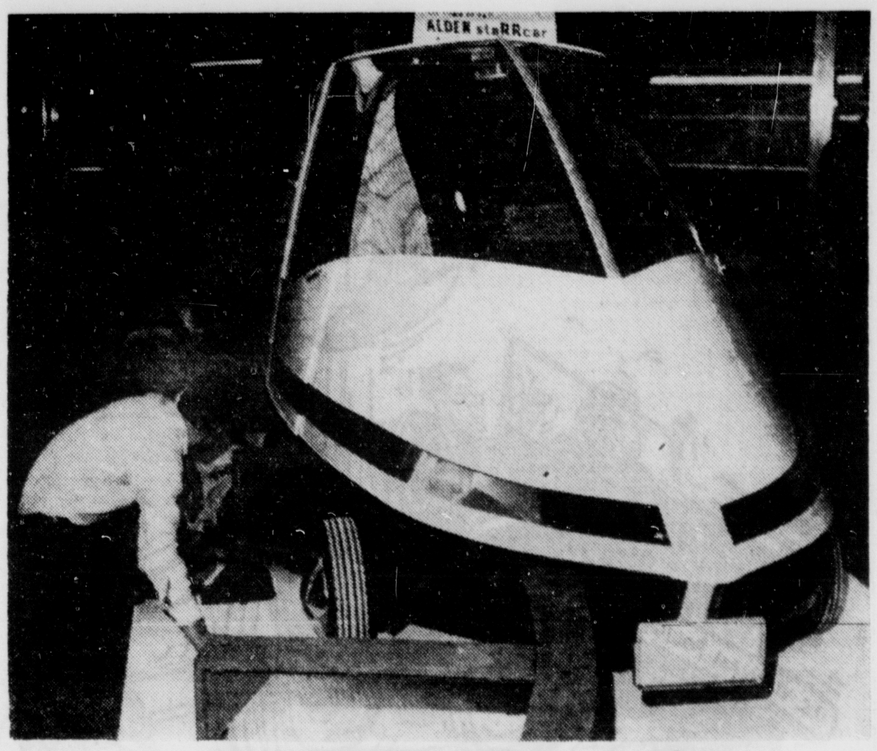
The daily list, to be found on the I-J's Business Page, is a selected list of the 500 most active daily stocks carried on the Exchange.

Holly Sugar Has Changes Ahead

COLORADO SPRINGS, Colo (BW) — Holly Sugar Corp. has announced the expansion and modernization of its plants at Tracy and Hamilton City in Northern California.

At the same time, the company said it would phase out its Alvarado sugar beet slicing operation at Union City with plans to turn the land into an industrial park.

Holly will continue to operate its storage and distribution facility at Union City, for liquid sugar which Holly sells to industral customers.



COMMUTERS' DREAM CAR?

Workmen made adjustments on the Starrcar at a New York exhibition hall this week. The unique vehicle, designed by Alden Self-Transit Systems Corp., is designed to cruise highways on six-volt batteries, or to ride transit lines under automatic control, drawing electrical power from the system. A commuter could drive from home to station, ride the rails, and go from station to downtown parking without changing vehicles, but still cutting freeway congestion. (AP Wirephoto)

Foremost Selling Subsidiary Firm

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — Foremost-McKesson, Inc., is selling its Cobb Arner subsidiary to International Chemical & Nuclear Corp.

Cobb Arner was acquired by Foremost Dairies, predecessor to Foremost-McKesson only two years ago, but Foremost agreed to dispose of it under terms of a Federal Trade Commission order prior to the Foremost merger with McKesson & Robbins.

New Marine Pump Makes Bailing Easy

SPRINGFIELD, Ohio (SS) — A gallon of water can be bailed out of a boat by only eight six-inch strokes of a new non-corroding pump.

The pump, 16 inches long by 2.5 inches in diameter, can be operated from a seated position while the boat is under way. It can be mounted in any desired place or position and is easily removable for cleaning or emergency use elsewhere, the makers, Peters and Russell, Inc., of Springfield, say.

Wall Street Has Second Poor Day

NEW YORK (AP)—The stock market closed with another loss today in the second of its new series of shortened sessions. Trading was active.

Losses outnumbered gains by about 2 to 1 and the Dow Jones industrial average was off a few points.

The market was sliding in a follow-through to yesterday's decline when a 100 per cent stock dividend by IBM perked it up. IBM was up about 16 points in the closing minutes.

Psychology was helped also by a statement from Chairman Wilbur Mills of the House Ways and Means Committee that the administration has made a better case for a tax increase.

These bullish influences, however, were offset by news the White House viewed as "very serious" that North Korean patrol boats had captured a U.S. Navy intelligence ship. Stocks backed away from gains.

Litton Industries plunged another half dozen points as it paced the list on volume. Teledyne lost nearly 6, Victor Comptometer 4, Alcoa and U.S. Gypsum 2 each.

Dow Chemical, General Dynamics, Eastman, Kodak, Du Pont, United Air Lines and Westinghouse Electric lost a point or so each.

General Precision made a 7-point rebound. Control Data recouped a point or so.

Ford Milpitas Plant Achieves Three Records

SAN JOSE (BW) — Ford Motor Co.'s assembly plant in Milpitas established three new daily production records Wednesday, according to Charles Stofko, plant manager.

Total production of passenger cars and trucks was 1,302, an all time daily high which beat the previous record of 1,200 set last Dec. 21.

Total Mustang and Cougar car production was 824 and light Ford truck production was 478 for new daily records in passenger cars and trucks.

The plant, which employs 4,000 persons, worked two 10-hour shifts on both car and truck lines.

He has also conducted professional decorating classes and will sculpt or decorate anything that conceivably goes on top of a cake.

Amoroso and his family now live in San Rafael.

THERE IS A NEW location for Casper's in San Anselmo — formerly at 60 Greenfield Avenue for the past 12 years.

Adolph Casper has taken his pool and patio business, campers and other equipment to 145 Tunstead Avenue, where he leased the former quarters of La Ville Food Products through Harvey Zion of Nipper and Marchant. La Ville moved out to the Northgate Industrial Park last year.

Casper has done quite a bit of remodeling in the building and has had a mezzanine put in for more space. His former location on Greenfield Avenue is destined for a new building to be occupied by the take-out food establishment of the Taco Bell chain.

A NEW mail order business, Astro-Ventures, has been organized as a division of Marin Ventures, San Rafael and will be headquartered at the same address — 1363 Lincoln Avenue.

Astro-Ventures will sell general merchandise, clothing items and home products, with some imports. These will not be catalogued or listed in brochures but will appear in newspaper and magazine ads only. Prices listed will include sales tax and shipping charges and the company intends to issue Blue Chip trading stamps on all purchases.

In charge of the operation are Walter Patrick Smith and Richard A. Schieck, both of San Rafael.

MISS LORETTO O'ROURKE of San Anselmo has been appointed by the directors of the Marin County Credit Association, Inc. ho fill the post of secretary-manager, held for the last 12 years by the late John Southmayd, who died about two weeks ago. She had been Southmayd's assistant for a number of years.

The association, owned by local merchant members and founded in 1926, operates both a credit bureau and a collection department.

FORMER ROSS RESIDENT James R. Osburn has returned from Los Angeles to San Francisco as general sales manager of KGO-TV. He expects to make his home again in Marin. Since early 1966 he has been general sales manager of KABC-TV in Los Angeles. Previously he was sales manager of spot sales at the San Francisco station.

Chan Tonge

WARREN CHAN of San Rafael, assistant cashier of Pacific National Bank of San Francisco, has been elected assistant vice president in charge of the note department. He has been with the bank 12 years.

INSURANCE. James C. Tonge Jr. of Corte Madera, associated with Bankers Life of Nebraska, has opened his own insurance agency, with offices at 5643 Paradise Drive, Corte Madera. . . Jack G. Nixon of Lucas Valley ranked fifth among 1,000 active agents of State Mutual Life Assurance Co. in the sale of life insurance for the month of December.

Walkout By Teachers 'In Behalf Of Children'?

If it comes, it will be the second such strike on the shores of San Francisco Bay. The first was by the AFL-CIO American Federation of Teachers local in Richmond, early in 1966.

This time, the scene is San Francisco. The organization is again an AFT local, the San Francisco Federation of Teachers.

The federation claims to have 1,400 members in the San Francisco schools. The school district office claims to have no exact figures on union membership — although it should have, for setting up a teachers' negotiating committee with proportional representation under the Winton Act — but credits the union with between 1,300 and 1,400 members.

If the union has 1,400, that is still under a third of the teaching employees in the San Francisco public schools, who number about 4,700. However, the union claims to have a majority of teachers in high schools and in junior highs (which are three-year, seventh through ninth grade, in San Francisco). It also claims "close to a majority" at the two-year San Francisco City College, which also is a part of the city school system.

THE UNION IS TO HOLD a strike vote Thursday. Its president, James E. Ballard, has made it plain that the union teachers will be urged to walk out unless "significant gestures" are made by the school administration.

At this late date, it appears extremely unlikely that Supt. Robert E. Jenkins or the San Francisco Board of Education could offer sufficient "significant gestures," even if they tried. The union has presented a long list of demands, some of which would require extensive re-budgeting and additional money to finance.

The union has a nice name for its list of demands. It calls them the "Achievement '68" program.

They include a salary schedule of $7,500 to $15,000 for next school year, sharp reduction in class sizes, right of teachers to elect department heads, specialist subject teachers in elementary schools, relief of teachers from all non-teaching duties, etc., etc.

If they are not met, says union president Ballard, the teachers will strike "on behalf of the children."

WE ARE ACCUSTOMED to teachers justifying their demands by saying they are "for the good of the schools" or "for the good of the children." But to suggest that walk off their jobs "on behalf of the children" is stretching things a bit too far.

The independent Teachers Association of San Francisco (900 members) and the San Francisco Classroom Teachers Association, which is the California Teachers Association local (2,400 members) have both condemned the strike.

While president Ballard of the union local talks of a strike "on behalf of the children," president John Scudder of the independent association says:

"In all this Teachers Union-instigated hullabaloo there is an important but forgotten person; namely, the child in our classroom."

If the walkout closes some or all of the junior highs and high schools, is this "on behalf of the children"?

If it necessitates doubling-up and much larger classes in the elementary schools because of smaller staff, is this "on behalf of the children"?

Hardly!

LOVE IS CALLED AN AID TO GROWTH

Lack of love — not gland disorder — may be the main cause of stunted growth, according to a study by doctors at Johns Hopkins Hospital.

The report, based on a six-year investigation of dwarfed childen, called family life — particularly the negative role of the father — a major factor contributing to dwarfism.

The children ranged from 3 to 12 years of age at the outset. They appear to have been retarded more by emotional deprivation than by gland malfunction, which was previously thought to be the main cause of stunted growth.

While the conclusions of this study are only preliminary, they are one more indication of the absolutely basic place of true affection in family life.

In its highest form, love constitutes a sharing with other human beings of the blessings that God has given to us. It seeks to serve, not dominate, and to assist others to reach maturity; not make them endlessly dependent on ourselves.

"Rather, speaking the truth in love, we are to grow up in every way."

(Ephesians 4:15)

Voter Poll Shows Most Favor Tuition Hike, Resist Withholding

By HENRY C. MacARTHUR

SACRAMENTO (CNS) — If more legislators took the trouble to ascertain the thinking of their constituents, no doubt more laws would reflect the real intent of the electorate.

One assemblyman, Frank Murphy, R-Santa Cruz, has made such a survey, and the results of an extensive poll he conducted in his district of Santa Cruz, San Benito and Merced counties is a reflection of what his people think.

MURPHY MAILED questionnaires to some 30,000 households. The return ran something over 10 per cent, which in mailing circles is considered an excellent result as to interest displayed.

His first question was on withholding funds from paychecks for state income taxes, an issue which will be in the forefront of legislation this year. On the direct query, "How do you stand on proposals to withhold state income taxes from your paycheck?" 2,247 persons said they opposed such proposals, 1,264 said they favored them, and 340 were undecided.

Murphy asked voters if they thought there was a need for a stricter law regarding pornography, and 2,978 voters said yes, 707 no, and 304 were undecided.

Voters were asked whether they thought the Rumford Act should be repealed, modified, or remain the same. Some 1,460 said it should be repealed, 872 said it should be modified, and 1,045 said it should remain the same.

ON THE SUBJECT of tuition charges at the University of California and state colleges, a majority of those responding favored increasing student fees at both institutions. However, the pool showed more favored increasing fees at the university than at state colleges.

Murphy said that in the remarks section, it was apparent a great deal of concern is felt over civil disobedience and disorderly campus demonstrations.

On the age-old question of capital punishment, which is not expected to be of great moment this year, the voters in Murphy's district favored retaining the death penalty by a 2,981 to 710 vote, with 298 undecided.

GIs In Vietnam Deserve The Best

Editor, Independent-Journal:

We who are complacent and silent — ponder this:

My neighbor's son just turned 20. He is in Company D, Third Infantry, in Vietnam. Over half of his company has been wiped out. In all the time he has been "over there," he has constantly been out on patrol. He has spent 20 days only at the base. He eats "C" rations, sleeps where he can, is forever hunting the enemy; he has been pinned down in one spot over eight hours; he has seen his best friend bleed to death five feet away — and he couldn't help because of bullets whizzing overhead; his helmet is punctured with bullet holes and marks; so far he doesn't know how he has survived. This fancy rifle we give him works great IF all the ammunition inserted is immaculate; during battle it frequently jams, and the cry is, "Who's got a cleaning rod?" They had one for 30 men.

Surely we here must realize that these men are the "cream of our crop" — and they deserve the "cream of our crop" in materials and supplies. Support them. Give them the best of equipment. Visit their families. And when they return, stand up and salute them.

Proposal That Drew Blast From Behr

Editor, Independent-Journal:

In your article last Tuesday, you quoted Supervisor Behr as saying "I think this is a cheap, low-down, second class raid." He was referring to my appearance before the board of supervisors that same day regarding possible state acquisition of the property of the First Christian Church. So that others may judge for themselves, the following represents my presentation:

"In 1964, a park bond issue in the amount of $150 million was passed, of which $4 million was committed to an expansion of Mount Tamalpais State Park. . . .

"The vital issue now, as I see it, is to spend these scarce ce tax dollars on property that will do the most good for the most people.

"In my opinion, the property owned by the church now considered for acquisition is not state park quality. The state study shows no campsite or picnic areas on this property. Trail maps describe most of the property as barren hills and brushy gulches. . . . Most of Franks Valley is already in public ownership and I feel that only one small parcel of 10 acres should be purchased. It makes one wonder if the people who decided on this property perhaps haven't taken time to look around and see just how beautiful some of our county really is; and in fact, I wonder if some of the proponents even know where the church property is. I am sure the small segment of people who managed to catapult the church property into its present position are sincere and dedicated; however, I do question their judgment. . . .

"I ask that you, on behalf of what I feel is the majority of our people, request of the state a slight delay before making any acquisition.

"You asked the state to delay diversion of the money to other projects while county counsel conducted an investigation into ownership and other matters relating to the church and other organizations. This investigation has not yet been completed but was postponed before you got the answers you asked for. We ask now that you request a 30-day delay in acquisition to determine if the taxpayers are getting the best property available for a park."

We Need To Know Who Enemies Are

Editor, Independent-Journal:

Re editorial (Jan. 16) "Does name suppression promote juvenile crime?" A more important question is whether shielding criminals is a disservice to the community.

Persons who commit crimes are criminals, without respect to age. An increasingly disporportionat part of the 10 to 20 per cent annual increase in reported major crime that has become standard is attributable to young criminals. The cards are already stacked in their favor. They know that in the unlikely event they are apprehended by the police, they will almost certainly be turned loose by the courts. Look at the record. They do. The whole law-enforcement apparatus, from the U.S. Supreme Court down is shedding too many tears for the criminal, too few for the victim.

This leaves the citizen with only the protection he can provide for himself. Knowledge of who his enemy is can be helpful. Only the newspapers can provide this knowledge.

Why Manager Is Outside City

Editor, Independent-Journal:

In your edition of Jan. 15 a letter was published attacking the city manager of Tiburon, Lawrence Rose, for not living within the City of Tiburon. As the builder of Reedland Woods, I should like to set the record straight on this matter. Mr. Rose was the first resident of Reedland Woods, purchasing his home while it was still under construction. At that time he was very conscious of the fact that Reedland Woods was not within the city limits of Tiburon, and he was assured by me that in the near future we would annex to the city. However, there were several obstacles to overcome before this could be accomplished. These concerned the completion of various parts of my contract with the original developer of Reedland Woods. Mr. Rose has been very patient while these committments were being completed. I am pleased to say that the last obstacles have been passed, and the City of Tiburon has in its possession a unanimous request for annexation from the present homeowners as well as myself, thus insuring annexation of Reedland Woods in the immediate future.

If Mr. Rose has suffered any embarrassment due to his home temporarily not being in the City of Tiburon, I would like to take this opportunity to apoligize to him. He has had no reason to expect this long delay in annexation.

Conservative Sign Ordinance Needed

Editor, Independent-Journal:

The San Rafael Planning Commission is currently discussing specific details regarding a new sign ordinance. One would hope that our commissioners would enact a restrictive ordinance banning billboards and flashing rotating signs.

A look at the north side of Francisco Boulevard with its large signs and honky-tonk appearance or at Montecito Shopping Center with huge signs advertising super markets should be enough to recommend a fair but conservative sign ordinance, one that reflects the conservative, suburban atmosphere of San Rafael.

TRY AND STOP ME

By BENNETT CERF

AS IF YOU didn't have plenty of worries enough these days, Johnny Carson lists a lot more among his amusing new book, "Misery Is a Blind Date." A few Carson nominations: 1. Finding out your daughter's screen test has just been sold as an Army training film. 2. Buying a sports car and finding your bucket is bigger than the bucket seat. 3. Cooking an exotic, complicated French dish for five hours and then having your husband pour catsup on it.

Troop Recall Seen As Aid To Dollar

By JOHN A. GOLDSMITH

WASHINGTON (UPI) — President Johnson's proposals for protecting the dollar will be haunted in coming weeks by Sen. Mike Mansfield's call for a cut in U.S. forces stationed in Europe.

Many members of Congress view Mansfield's plan as an attractive election-year alternative to the package unveiled by the president on New Year's Day for cutting the balance of payments deficit.

Johnson won't like it, of course, and his Senate Democratic leader didn't plan it that way. Mansfield's central idea, in proposing a "substantial" troop reduction a year ago was not to help the U.S. balance of payments posture.

MANSFIELD AND some of the 44 other senators who support his troop withdrawal resolution contend that 200,000 U.S. troops — plus about 500,000 dependents and other American civilians — have no business in Europe 20 years after hostilities ended there, particularly when European nations are trimming their own defense outlays.

Some see the U.S. dollar drain as a central persuasive argument for removing some of the si-division U.S. force from Europe. The finacial burden of supporting that force, in terms of dollars spent abroad, is simply too great in this view.

Whatever importance is assigned to balance of payments effects, return of U.S. troops would certainly curb the spending of dollars abroad. Estimates vary, but the Pentagon said removal of 35,000 troops, due to take place this spring, will reduce overseas spending by some $75 million.

THE PRESIDENT has made it clear that overseas dollar outlays must be reduced. His blueprint for making the cuts involves such actions as mandatory restrictions on investments abroad by U.S. enterprise and regulation — perhaps by a penalty tax — on European travel by Americans.

So far, Mansfield has contended only that his troop proposal would "fit in" with the steps advanced by the president and is not intended as a substitute. Chairman J. William Fulbright, D-Ark., of the Senate Foreign Relations Committee has said the Mansfield proposal has additional merit in the light of the dollar gap.

There are trouble signals already aloft for some of the president's proposals. Mansfield is one of many who have attacked the idea of a travel tax. Many lawmakers also will be reluctant to support restrictions on businessmen in an election year.

Mansfield plans further hearings soon on his troops resolution. He does not anticipate quick Senate action. The measure will be pending and the president, in pressing his proposals, may have to give a little to get a little.

Kremlin Putting Squeeze On Hard-Pressed Castro

By ROBERT S. ALLEN

WASHINGTON — The Kremlin rulers are making Fidel Castro pay through the nose for his grandstanding outbursts of fractious complaints and blustering gestures.

While continuing to provide grain, oil, machinery, manufactured and other goods, the Soviet Union is quietly cracking down by exacting higher prices for these vital supplies — without which terror-ruled Cuba would quickly sink into economic chaos and inevitable turmoil and violence.

CASTRO CAN continue to order all he wants from his fellow Communists — if he can pay their increased price.

He can't. So he had to drastically reduce oil imports. He is still paying out as much as he did before, but getting a lot less for it.

CUBA IS PRIMARILY a single-crop exporter. Sugar accounts for approximately 85 per cent of its foreign sales. The remainder consists of 5 per cent tobacco, 5 per cent minerals and metals, 2 per cent fruits and vegetables, 3 per cent miscellaneous.

Under barter agreements, Russia and other Communist countries take more than two-thirds of Cuba's sugar.

In 1966, the last year for which figures are available, the International Sugar Council reported Cuba shipped only 27 per cent of its 4.4 million tons of sugar exports to non-Communist countries. Red China got 500,000 tons.

Cuba consistently imports more than it sells abroad. In 1966, latest figures available, this trade deficit was more than $100 million. Intelligence estimates this deficit as even greater last year.

In the nine years of Castro's rule, there has been only one sugar crop that matched prior totals—1967, which produced 6.2 million tons. The 1966 crop barely reached 5 million tons, and estimates of this year's crop are not much better; at the most, it's not expected to exceed 5.5 million.

Under a 1964 barter agreement, he is committed to provide the Soviet Union with 24.1 million tons of sugar over a six-year period. In return, he gets six cents a pound (more than double the current world price of 2.3 cents a pound) in goods, oil, arms and other supplies—at prices set by Russia.

In 1966, when he was required to ship three million tons, the Kremlin cut it to 1.8 million tons. This year he is supposed to supply Russia with five million tons.

City Seal Bugaboo Keeps Returning To Haunt Novato

That old bugaboo, the Novato city seal, has come back to haunt the city council again. This was one of the first projects started by the Novato city council, and it hasn't been settled yet.

The original seal committee designed a seal with Mount Burdell in the background, a village of plank Indian teepees on one side and the Novato city hall on the other. A tomahawk was crossed with a gavel showing the two symbols of power.

It was adopted but created such a storm of protest that it was never used. The original copy is usually hidden somewhere in the city hall.

So it rests. A city seal was adopted but never used. A substitute seal was proposed but was never accepted.

It is a sure thing that whatever the council does will not please some of the people.

THE NOVATO Fire District is having trouble rezoning some surplus land which it owns adjacent to the city limits in the Ignacio area. The district wants it rezoned so it can be sold for commercial property, at a higher figure.

It has made many people wonder why not all of the fire district property that is adjacent to the city is inside the city limits. Only the main fire station and the one in San Marin are inside the city. The station on South Novato Boulevard, the site on Atherton Avenue, and the one in Ignacio are not in the city.

The same holds true of Novato Unified School District. The only school which is not inside the city limits is the Loma Verde School. The school board one time asked that it be annexed, but this has not been followed through by the city of Novato.

Academic Infallibility Sometimes Appears To Be Quite Fallible

In my childhood, every other New York block was a sort of Hyde Park. And after dinner, we'd all head for the corner, where soap-box orators expounded their various isms, often to some good-natured heckling.

I'll never forget one devout atheist who wound up his preachment dramatically by shaking his fist at the heavens and crying, "If there's a God, let Him strike me down dead!" All of us youngsters — and probably some elders — shivered in apprehension.

But nothing happened even when he thrice repeated his defi. And we spent the rest of the evening wondering why the Lord had refused the challenge. It was beyond us.

THEN, SOME YEARS later, I heard Billy Sunday, ballplayer turned evangelist, similarly defy the devil. After eloquently flaying the Evil One verbally, Billy stomped on the ground and dared Satan to come up and fight like a man. I hoped he would, for I was sure Billy would beat him to a pulp. But the cowardly devil never appeared.

Those two traumatic experiences may explain why I now dare to question the doctrine of academic infallibility. I may be called anti-intellectual again, but at least I know I won't be struck dead.

Mind you, I do not rank teachers as devils — nor as angels, either. I simply contend they are made of the same flesh and blood as the rest of us, and so equally subject to error — and pomposity. An extra degree does not turn them into supermen.

CONSIDER the shibboleth of "academic freedom," represented as only a desire to hear both sides. Last week, some 7,000 UCLA students and faculty turned out to hear Adam Clayton Powell, punctuating his talk with generous applause. And, a day or so later, Sen. Eugene McCarthy spoke at the same place before 8,000 and, at the end, got a standing ovation.

Fair enough. But if Secretary Rusk should come, many who politely listened to Powell and McCarthy would be picketing; and, of those who did attend, some would walk out in protest. Even LBJ has at times undignifiedly been forced to enter meetings through some subterranean passage.

The academy can do no wrong? The hell it can't! A recent test showed that in reading ability the Los Angeles public schools ranked among the lowest 7 per cent of the nation.

Immediately, there were cries that the test was not fair. But what test is when you flunk it? That's when a whipping boy comes in handy.

ONE PROF I met during the holidays blamed it all on our governor. "One year of Reagan," he said bitterly, "and California drops from first in education to 42nd!" Asked how Reagan had wrought this havoc, he replied, "The facts speak for themselves." Pressed further, he strode from the room in indignation.

Another alibi is that L. A. has many families in which English is not the main tongue at home. Well, so did the New York block on which I lived — many of the kids spoke Yiddish, Italian, German and Polish before they learned English.

But somehow as they gathered to play hop-scotch and tag, and later one-old-cat and baseball, they all spoke English. And spoke it well enough to go on to high school after they had their diploma from P.S. 186. Some even went on to become teachers.

And all their fathers — and some of the mothers — had gone to night school at least long enough so they could sign their names and learn enough U.S. history to pass the test for naturalization. The did not demand the right to vote and the other privileges of citizenship without accepting the obligations thereof.

OF COURSE, they learned by phonics. There was then none of that "look-say" nonsense in which you might learn to read "rhinoceros" and even draw a picture of it, but were stumped by "tiger" because you hadn't learned the alphabet and couldn't figure out what those five letters represented.

Anyway, for the moment at least, phonics is coming back to L.A. But 10 years ago, the teachers called you anti-intellectual if you found any good in that archaic device.

I'm thankful, but I'm wary lest some new fad sweep the academy. And I'm glad I don't have to go to school nowadays, because I'd look awful silly in a dunce cap.

Three Take Test For Peace Corps

Three persons took the Peace Corps placement test Saturday in San Rafael.

A spokesman for the post office, where the test was given, said the number was higher than usual, as usually only one or two persons show up for the monthly test.

The next test will be at 1:30 p.m. Feb. 17 in Room 7 of the Mission Branch of the San Rafael Post Office, 910 D Street. Application forms, which must be completed before taking the test, are available at post offices.

Minor Injuries In Chain Crash

An 18-year-old Kentfield girl suffered minor knee injuries in a four-vehicle collision which occurred when her foot slipped off the brake of her car on Sir Francis Drake Boulevard at the Drake High School entrance Saturday noon.

San Anselmo police said the girl, Cathryn Esther Noon, of 22 Cedar Avenue, was westbound and attempting to halt when her foot slipped and instead struck her car's accelerator. The vehicle slammed into the rear of a stopped car driven by William Louis Cuneo, 67, of 221 Ross Avenue, San Anselmo. Cuneo's car struck one driven by Eugene S. McCarthy, 47, of 137 Bolinas Avenue, Fairfax, officers said, and McCarthy's vehicle struck one driven by Harold Louis Iverson, 46, of 676 Butterfield Road, San Anselmo.

Western Weekend Money Raised

The dance raised $498.50 for Western Weekend Inc., according to Mrs. Billy Garl, secretary to the chamber of commerce.

The debt stood at $575 before the dance, according to Joseph Forrest, treasurer. The chamber had pledged $150 toward the deficits, but co-sponsored the dinner instead. So Western Weekend still owes $76.50, according to Forrest.

There were 210 at the dinner, but about 40 more came for the program and dancing, Mrs. Garl said.

Lynch Opposes Softer Penalty On Marijuana

SACRAMENTO (AP) — Atty. Gen. Thomas C. Lynch opposed today to move in the Legislature to liberalize California's marijuana laws.

"I think we have good tough laws on the books right now and they ought to remain that way," Lynch said in an interview.

But Lynch said he would back a proposal to tighten possession penalties for such dangerous drugs as LSD or methamphetamine, known to drug users as "speed."

REVISIONS ASKED

The revisions in the penalty laws were proposed by Chairman W. Craig Biddle, R-Riverside, of the Assembly Criminal Procedure Committee.

He proposed that judges be given discretion to decide whether first-offense possession of marijuana is a misdemeanor or a felony. At present, judges must sentence first offenders for a felony — one to 10 years in state prison.

Biddle also proposed a tightening in the dangerous drug laws, giving judges discretion to hand out felony penalties to first offenders. Now, misdemeanor penalties are mandatory, which provide up to one year in County jail.

Possession of marijuana, said Lynch, "is a very dangerous offense. Marijuana is a dangerous drug. It is a hallucinogenic drug. It goes back to ancient times when it used to be called hashish."

ARRESTS CLIMB

Lynch said that from January to June 1957, marijuana arrests increased 182 per cent and dangerous drug arrests went up 89 per cent.

"A lot of it is due to the publicity that it (marijuana) is not habit forming or dangerous," said Lynch. Biddle agreed marijuana is harmful but "it can be a minor case or a serious case depending on the facts allowed."

The attorney general said he backed a resolution setting up a 30-member commission to determine the effects of the hallucinogenic drugs. Democratic Assemblyman Winfield A. Shoemaker of Lompoc, the resolution's author said "the old approaches have not worked."

"It's a good idea," said Lynch. "There is a lot of material available, but it hasn't been brought together in one place."

EFFECTS STUDY

Shoemaker, like Lynch, noted drug arrests had increased. He said the commission would try to determine the effects of hallucinogenic drugs — and why people use them.

At a conference sponsored by the Santa Barbara Board of Education, Shoemaker said, delegates were told "that half the children in Santa Barbara high schools have tried marijuana."

"The University of California at Santa Barbara reports a series of severe medical cases resulting from students using LSD," he said.

Parents, he said "have no experience with these drugs. They find it hard to discuss these problems knowledgably with their children. Most adults in California suffer from a severe generation gap."

3-YEAR VOYAGE

Note Makes It Around The Horn

A note in a wine bottle thrown into a tributary of Papermill Creek in Forest Knolls in 1965 has turned up on a beach in the Gulf of Mexico.

William J. Bianchi, a junior at Sir Francis Drake High School, is trying to puzzle out how his wine bottle and note made it around Cape Horn or through the Panama Canal to be found on the other side of the country.

Bianchi put the typewritten note in the small wine bottle, pushed the cork far in and dribbled candle wax on the top to seal it. Te threw it in a tributary of the creek that runs in back of his home on Barranca Road in Forest Knolls on April 9, 1965.

"I am just curious where it will end up," the note said. "Please let me know where it was found."

Bianchi received a letter from Robert M. Davis dated Jan. 18, saying that Davis had found the bottle and note "a couple of days ago" while walking near Fort Walton Beach, Fla.

Bianchi had made another try at communication by current. in 1966 he dropped a sealed Coke bottle with a note in it into the same creek. A neighbor found it a year later in a pile of debris only a mile downstream.

Mileage Law On New Cars Is Challenged

SACRAMENTO (AP) — A bill to allow new car dealers to disconnect or set back a new car's mileage indicator would "benefit the customer" rather than a dealer, its sponsor says.

Legislation proposed by Sen. Tom Carrell, D-San Fernando, would exempt new car dealers from a law enacted last year barring anyone from such mileage indicator tampering on any car — new or used.

The author of the law, Sen. Anthony Beilenson, D-Beverly Hills, said he will oppose Carrell's proposed modification.

Beilenson said his law is aimed mainly at individuals and used car dealers, but asked, "Where do you draw the line? If there are several hundred miles on a car, people should know."

Carrell, owner of a San Fernando new car dealership, says the exemption would allow the purchaser of a new car to obtain full mileage covered by a manufacturer's warranty.

"... The customer gets that much more mileage," Carrell said. "There are certain things a dealer has to do before delivery.

He said this has been a common practice among dealers, but added it has been done "with no thought to deceiving."

Most of the violations of the existing law, he said are done by the public and rental companies rather than dealers.

Carrell said that sometimes a dealer who does not have a specific model in stock will bring in a new car brought in from another dealer "to please a customer." He said he does not think the en route mileage should be charged against the customer's warranty, and therefore should not be recorded.

He defined his proposed legislation as a "customer protection bill."

UCLA's Beban Says He Won't Sign With A Loser

PHILADELPHIA (AP)—Gary Beban, UCLA's All - America quarterback, picked up some more silverware last night and in the process dropped a subtle hint to the pros.

The 21-year-old passer wants to play professional football, but not with just any team in the National or American Football Leagues.

"I won't name the teams I'd rather not play for," said Beban in an interview before he was honored by the Maxwell Football Club as the outstanding college player of the year, "but they know who they are. I've answered their questionnaires."

Johnny Unitas, Baltimore's All-National Football League quarterback, was honored by the Maxwell Club as the top pro player of the year. He won the honor for the third time, the only player to gain more than once the trophy awarded in memory of the late NFL commissioner Bert Bell.

Beban, who led UCLA to a 24-5-2 record in his three years at quarterback, indicated he isn't playing hard to get. He's used to playing with a winner and doesn't want to struggle with an expansion team or one in the cellar of either league.

The combined NFL-AFL football draft is scheduled for New York on Jan. 30 and the chances are that one of the lower teams will grab Beban in the first round. He could be No. 1.

Beban wouldn't criticize the pro draft but said, "It really does place a lot of limitations on the player. But there are ways of informing a team if you don't want to play for them.

"If a team is willing to waste a draft choice, especially a high one, for a young man who doesn't want to play for them, it's a poor way to run a business."

Beban wouldn't commit himself as to what he would do if the wrong club selects him. "I really think you have to be in that situation before you could say what you would do," said the perceptive 195-pounder.

The 6-foot-1 native of Redwood City, is preparing for his confrontation with the pros. He has hired Arthur Morse, a Chicago attorney, to handle his negotiations, which would include salary.

He said Morse has represented Green Bay's Jim Grabowski, Dick Butkus of the Chicago Bears and basketball player Cazzie Russell of the New York Knickerbockers in contract dealings.

Beban also said he doesn't expect to walk into a starting berth with a pro team: "It is an advantage to sit back and watch a Johnny Unitas for a year or two and learn. I don't care if you're an insurance or real estate salesman, it's good to learn from a top man."

Struggling 49ers Pin Their Hopes On Nolan

THE COACH — Starving for someone to pump new life into their sagging attendance, the San Francisco 49ers went out and hired a big name coach last Friday. Dick Something-or-other. I'll never forget what's-his-name.

No, this Dick Nolan doesn't exactly qualify for "Who's Who." Rather, "Who's HE?" is more like it.

Actually, it isn't fair to make fun of Mr. Nolan's anonymity because a career as an assistant coach is not exactly the quickest route to fame. Quick now, who is the linebacker coach for the Oakland Raiders? Or, do names like Dave Hanner, Tom Miller and Tom McCormick ring a bell? Well, they are assistant coaches of the world champion Green Bay Packers.

Maybe It Will Rub Off On 49ers

Nolan is the defensive specialist for the Dallas Cowboys. I didn't know if that was Dallas' strongest point or if defense was the 49ers weakest point, but he has been associated with winners all his life and the San Francisco brass hope some of it will rub off on them.

He says he's going to view movies before he decides on any major shakeup of the San Francisco team. I'd advise him to forget those horror films of the 1967 season and instead see "Valley of the Dolls" now playing at the Tamalpais.

Forty-Niner management did not consult me on any of their coaching candidates, but I could have helped them. After a recent luncheon chat with business executive Bill Osterlund of Novato, I learned how modern businesses select their top execs, and football is big business.

In discussing the 49er coaching situation, Osterlund said, "It seems to me that if the man has a good record, it doesn't really matter where he comes from — pro or college ranks. I would be much more concerened with the man's 'personality pattern.' A person's leadership characteristics may be determined easily by applying modern business personality tests."

Rate Applicant By Four Criteria

Osterlund explained: "These tests rate a job applicant by four criteria . . . Dominance, Sociability, Emotional Stability and Affinity For Detail.

"Let's go through them point by point. Dominance: He must score high on this point. George Halas is dominant. He runs up and down the sidelines screaming at officials. Since Lombardi is dominant. He's been known to get physical with his own players. Paul Brown showed his dominance by calling every play.

"Sociability: A high degree of sociability sometimes accompanies the dominant guy. Michigan State's Duffy Daughterty, the laughing Irishman, epitomizes this desirable trait. High sociability tempers dominance and keeps it from pure belligerence.

"Emotional Stability: A low score in this category is called for. It is very possible that Jack Christiansen (fired by the 49ers) was too high in emotional stability. He should have known better, having played under Buddy Parker and with Bobby Lane, two of the most emotionally unstable characters ever connected with football.

Don't Worry About Those Details

"Affinity for Detail: A smidgeon below average is all that's needed in this department. Our man should be able to detect a player with a broken leg and be sure there are exactly 11 of his players on the field at all times; but he should not be distracted by a shirt tail hanging out or a female in an orange dress cavorting in the stands.

"The top coach also must have a high energy level plus excellent inner controls.

"That, Jim, would be the perfect personality pattern for coaching our boys. It is estimated that only 3 per cent of the nation's population has this pattern; not very many needles for such a big haystack.

"I'd bet that Bud Wilkinson has this pattern."

How about Dick Whatsizname? Only time will tell.

Reinstatement Of Presley Causes Cal Team Rebellion

BERKELEY, Calif. (AP)—A dozen of the 15 men on the University of California varsity basketball squad last night charged that star center Bob Presley had been reinstated because of pressures and signed a statement saying they would play no more until the pressures were removed.

The statement, delivered to a San Francisco television station, did not name Presley but without question referred to him. It said his reinstatement by head Coach Rene Herrerias "was the result of pressures from university administrators . . . we feel these . . . pressures have no place on the basketball courts, and until such pressures are unconditionally removed we cannot participate in Cal basketball."

"We want to stress that our basis for this statement is only in support of our coach and that neither his decision nor our support is in any way qualified with racial overtones," the statement concluded.

Director of Athletics Pete Newell told the Associated Press that the 12 men who signed the statement are all Caucasians and that Presley, along with two other members of the squad who did not sign the statement, are Negroes.

Newell said he was glad to see the boys supporting their coach but that "the suspension was both pronounced and lifted by the coach, and there has been no evidence or any indication that anybody but the coach lifted the suspension. Nobody coerced him into lifting it. I think the players are presumptious when they start to read into the coach's action what they think was behind it," he said.

Newell said he agreed that there were no racial overtones to the dispute but felt it was up to Herrerias to clarify the whole thing. "There is absolutely no evidence that anyone but the coach determined what he did," he said.

GRAND PRIX—Work on the Sears Point Park auto racing complex will start soon and racing may be a reality there by as early as June.

Davenport May Be Giant Regular Third Baseman

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — Giants baseball manager Herman Franks, getting ready for a Defense Department-sponsored trip to Europe, called a press conference yesterday to unburden himself of a few items, as follows:

Spring training will open unofficially Feb. 18 at Casa Grande, Ariz., for those who want to take the baths and work out kinks; the full club will report Feb. 25.

"There were so many leg pulls last year," Franks said, "we're going to add physical training apparatus to the clubhouse under supervision of Bert Gustafson, physical therapist.

"Willie Mays, Willie McCovey, Jim Davenport and Jim Ray Hart are working with him now in San Francisco.

"Davenport is regaining strength in his weak leg, so he could be playing third base regularly. I'd like to use Hart in left field.

"If we build Mays up in spring training, he may be stronger this season. Maybe more running and exercise will do him good."

Of pitcher Juan Marichal's disappointing 1967 season, Franks said, "We have no doubts he will regain his top form; I understand he's doing very well in winter ball."

STILL LOOKING

Franks said, "If we were to start the season right now, we'd go with the lineup that finished last season, but we have a few things in the hopper and are trying to make a few trades.

"Our biggest need is an infielder."

The Giants' field boss said Hal Lanier looked like the man at shortstop, "and we'll have to take a look at a lot of guys for second base.

"I understand Tito Fuentes is really hitting the ball in the Dominican Republic. Tito and Hal were really doing a great job last year until Fuentes hurt his ankle sliding. He never was the same after that.

Franks plans to leave with a party of baseball notables Jan. 30 for Germany, England and Italy to conduct clinics under Defense Department sponsorship.

Success Or Failure Is All A Simple Matter Of Geography

STEVENS

The success or failure of fishing and hunting in California (or anywhere) is a matter of geography.

The truth of that statement was made clear on Sunday, when I overheard a conversation in a restaurant. One speaker was bewailing his poor showing on a number of waterfowl hunts. "I don't know for sure," he said, "but I'll bet the records will prove that the season on ducks just past was one of the poorest we have ever had."

That pessimist would lose his bet. The official records prove beyond a doubt that the season was extremely good. I hope he reads this column when it appears. Actually a record number of hunters bagged a record 269,272 birds according to a late release from the Department of Fish and Game. It stated: "102,734 hunters used the 14 state and federal waterfowl areas managed by the DFG, breaking the record of 84,702 set the previous season. The total number of ducks killed, 248,176, and the total number of birds taken were new all-time highs. The number of hunters was up 22 per cent and the total bag increased 36 per cent." That doesn't seem to be a "poor season," does it?

AGAIN, ON the geographical difference is the report of extra good steelhead fishing on the Klamath River from one source and the very poor fishing in the same stream from another source (both from honest anglers). According to the latest report from Happy Camp, by Jim Roads, Klamath River Guide Service, both those reports were true. Geography made the difference. Roads explained: "Warm rains that have melted the snow in high elevations has brought a change to the Klamath. It's fishable with bait and lures from Scott River upstream now, but will take a few days to clear from the Scott River down to Happy Camp. From Happy Camp downstream it's completely out for some time to come."

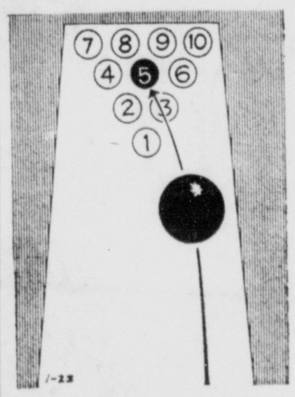
IF YOU fancy steelheading in the upper reaches of the Klamath, I suggest you contact Roads and get the current news on his stretch of the river. You can depend upon getting the true status.

THERE IS good, almost exciting news of steelheading on both north and south Coastal streams as this is being written. A hard rain, or no rain, can, of course, reverse the outlook. A mild rain won't hurt, a hard rain will delay fishing for from three to ten days.

STRIPER FISHING continues spotty, ditto sturgeon. Lots of flounders in the San Pablo and Suisun bays as of today. Catfishing should be rewarding in the Delta region, and deep sea rockfishing should also be rewarding unless hard winds disturb the ocean.

BOWLING TIPS

By DON CARTER



Sometimes the ball hits the pocket, but leaves the No. 5 pin standing. This is a discouraging situation, but it is important to overcome the disappointment and make the spare. To do this, you must realize that the No. 5 is a full 18 inches farther away than the headpin, and that you must allow for this. If you throw a hook ball, move your starting position an inch or two to the left, but throw at the same arrow (if you use the spot system). This permits the ball to travel to the No. 5 before hooking past it. Many times a No. 5 is missed because the bowler doesn't realize it is so far away.

Sears Point Race Complex Starts Soon

Northern California's first Grand Prix caliber auto racing complex — Sears Point Park — will soon be under development in Sonoma County.

James R. Coleman, general manager of Sears Point Properties, Inc. of San Rafael, said approval has been received from the Sonoma County Board of Zoning Adjustments. "We hope to be able to break ground in March," he said. "But even more important, we have already contracted with the Sports Car Club of America for a September 22nd Trans American Sedan Race."

Plans for Sears Point Park call for a 3.1-mile road racing course, a 2.2-mile short road course, and a one-quarter-mile drag racing strip, with all the necessary participant and spectator facilities.

Sears Point Park, located about halfway between Vallejo and Novato at the intersection of State Highways 37 and 121, was designed from the ground up by the civil engineeering firm of Murray & McCormick, Inc., working in close conjunction with SCCA drivers and officials.

PREMIER CIRCUIT

"We have been in on the planning for this project since the outset," said Bill McCormick, regional manager of the SCCA's San Francisco Region. "And we are very enthusiatic about it. The sport of automobile racing is most definitely in need of a premier circuit located within the metropolitan San Francisco Bay Area."

Coleman and three other Bay Area businessmen — Gordon Blumenfeld, John B. Gibbons, and Robert D. Marshall Jr. — are the principals behind the project, and the money raisers. They say that eventually the development will encompass about one square mile and include considerably more than the automobile racing operation.

Initially, some 300 acres will be developed, Coleman said, at an estimated cost of $1.2 million for the road course, drag strip, and related facilities, with another 30 acres to become a major skeet and trap shooting area. Winchester Arms Co. is currently negotiating for a franchise on the gun project.

Later, a 25-acre commercial development will be built, including motels, restaurants, shops, and other service-type businesses.

RACING IN JUNE

Fred Krabbe, manager of Murray & McCormick's Marin County office, said that if all goes according to schedule, the 2.2 mile short course and the drag strip should be operational by June.

The road racing course, he said, will vary in width from 40 to 80 feet, will include both banked and flat curves, and will vary in elevation from 20 to 340 feet above sea level, with maximum grades of 15 per cent. The paved track will be built to international race course standards, as set by the Asphalt Institute.

The pit area, often the object of bitter complaints from participants, will be elevated in the interests of safety and to provide a better view of the race couse for mechanics and other pit personnel.

Athletes Stand Fast On Decision

NEW YORK (AP) — A statement by some of America's top track stars that if any of them were declared ineligible for the Olympics all of them would stay out of the Games has drawn guarded comment from the Amateur Athletic Union.

A statement issued in Chicago Sunday, and subscribed to by such stars as Jim Ryun, Ralph Boston and Gerry Lindgren, said, "If any of our number is disqualified because of his or her competing in a meet of their choice, we will consider ourselves to be in the same status."

Yesterday, Col. Donald Hull, executive director of the AAU, said, "We regret that some of our fine Olympic athletes have taken this action."

The AAU has warned that any athletes competing in the U.S. Track and Field Federation meet in New York Feb. 9 would be ineligible for Olympic competition. The meet has no AAU sanction and the presence of some non-collegians requires one, the AAU has said.

Hull said he hoped the report of the federal panel mediating the long dispute between the AAU and the National Collegiate Athletic Association would solve the problem. The panel, headed by labor negotiator Theodore Kheel, is expected to make its recommendations soon.

Hull also disagreed somewhat with Avery Brundage, head of the International Olympic Committee, who warned last week that a forced government settlement of the dispute could result in the wholesale suspension of the entire American Olympic team.

Hull said that if the AAU, the official representative of the IOC in American athletic affairs, agreed with the federal settlement the IOC would accept the decision.

The runnerup spot also got tied up, with Mrs. George Greenwood and Art Sears and Mrs. William May and Jerry Hannigan turning in scores of 65. Next were Mrs. Harold Burnell and William Sparrow at 66, followed by Mrs. Torc Bedeyan and Jack Weese at 67.

East Heavy Favorite In NBA All-Star Game

NEW YORK (AP) — Expansion, a lost scoring leader and a fallen star have taken some of the twinkle from the West team and made the East a strong favorite tonight in the National Basketball Association All-Star game at Madison Square Garden.

An expected sellout crowd of 18,500 along with a nation-wide television audience (ABC), will watch the 18th annual classic in which the stars of the Eastern Division hold an 11-6 edge over those of the Western Division. Game time is 8:30 p.m., EST.

The West is favored by 10 points to wipe out last year's 135-120 upset at San Francisco, partly because of what the East has, and partly because of what the West is missing.

MISSING

In last year's game, Rick Barry scored 38 points and Dave DeBusschere 22 and Nate Thurmond hauled in 18 rebounds to lead the West. None of the three will play for the West tonight, and neither will Dave Bing, the league's leading scorer.

Barry, who jumped from the San Francisco Warriors to Oakland of the American Basketball Association, won't even be in the building, and Thurmond, his former teammate, will be back in San Francisco nursing an injured knee that has sidelined him for the season.

DeBusschere and Bing of Detroit will be playing for the East, the result of last year's expansion realignment that added San Diego and Seattle to the Western Division and moved Detroit to the East.

OTHERS

The East also has Wilt Chamberlain and Hal Greer of Philadelphia, Jerry Lucas and Oscar Robertson of Cincinnati, Bill Russell, John Havlicek and Sam Jones of Boston, Willis Reed and Dick Barnett of New York and Gus Johnson of Baltimore. Bing and Barnett have never been in the game before.

Chamberlain, Reed, Lucas, Robertson and Bing will start.

Zelmo Beaty will take Thurmond's place in the West starting line-up along with St. Louis teammates Len Wilkens and Bill Bridges, and Elgin Baylor and Jerry West of Los Angeles.

On the bench will be Rudy LaRusso of San Francisco and six players making their first All-Star appearance — Archie Clark of Los Angeles, Jim King and Clyde Lee of San Francisco, Don Kojis of San Diego, Bob Boozer of Chicago and Walt Hazzard of Seattle.

Alex Hannum of Philadelphia, who coached the West in two previous losses, will handle the East squad while Bill Sharman of San Francisco makes his All-Star coaching debut for the West.

Game On Television

Tonight's NBA All-Star game will be televised on Channels 7 and 11 starting at 5:30 p.m.

Redwood Grapplers Edge Tamalpais

Redwood High School upped its Marin County Athletic League dual meet wrestling record to 2-1 with a 27-22 squeaker over Tamalpais last Friday.

Pacing the Redwood win were Jay Pedersen, John Brennan, and Jim Ryall, all of whom scored falls. Lee Christopher, Steve Laskey and Harold Pritchard added victories by decisions.

Arch Rivals

COLORADO SPRINGS, Colo. (AP) — Colorado College and Colorado Mines have played 71 games in their football rivalry stretching over 78 years. This year's game smashed all scoring records when the CC Tigers won 70-35.

New Oak Makes Debut Tonight

OAKLAND (AP) — Oakland Oaks fans will get their first look at new guard Barry Liebowitz tonight at 8:15 in the Oakland arena as the team tries to break a six-game losing streak in American Basketball Association play against the Houston Mavericks.

Leibowitz was obtained from the New Jersey Americans last week in a trade which sent Levern Tart, the league's leading scorer, to the Eastern club.

Ballati-Browning Team Wins Tourney

Babe Ballati and Dud Browning won the Mill Valley Golf Club's best ball twosome tournament Sunday with a low net score of 53.

Tom McAuley and Mario Polacchi were second, a stroke off at 54. They were followed by Frank Evansco and Ed Victor, 55, and Al Carlson and George Davenport, Bill Cody and Chet Howlett and Ted Lemke and Cliff Snow, all with 56 scores.

FISH WINS 32-HOUR FIGHT WITH ANGLER

AUCKLAND, New Zealand (AP) — Lawyer Don Heatley fought what is believed one of the longest battles in game fishing history last weekend when for 32 hours he struggled with a fish he never even saw.

The fight began at 3:20 p.m., local time, Sunday when Heatley hooked the fish, believed to be a Black Marlin, off Mayor Island.

In the ensuing struggle, the fish dragged the 40-foot launch 30 miles beyond the Alderman Islands. Five times, Heatley got the fish within 20 yards of the boat and four times it plunged back to the depths.

HOW FAR CAN YOU TRUST A USED VW?

About as far as you can trust a new one . . .

when it's had our 16-point Safety and Performance Inspection. That's why we can guarantee 100 PER CENT the repair or replacement of all major mechanical parts for 30 DAYS or 1,000 MILES. Of course, not every used VW gets this inspection. Only VW's sold by an authorized dealer like us.

Tam Trustees Query Film Making Project

Film-making in English classes of the three high schools in Tamalpais High School District came under scrutiny last night by district trustees.

The questioning followed a report by a panel of four English teachers on a district workshop they attended last summer that included techniques in film-making and writing.

The panel — Albert Lavin, district English supervisor, Bernard Schneider of Tamalpais High, Mary Donovan of Redwood High and Michael James of Sir Francis Drake High School — told of introducing the film projects in classes this year. School officials said Drake now has a course, "the art of the film," in the English department, and Redwood and Tamalpais high schools are using the film as part of regular English courses.

Thrustee Gloria B. Melbostad said the report and project was exciting but asked if students are even writing English well enough, without going into new fields.

She said she has heard reports that many high school graduates reach college without adequate English background.

Dr. John C. Siemens, president, added that he also has heard the college students are having language study problems as a result of insufficient training at a high school level.

The board approved about $36,000 in personnel changes for next year, including the authorization of hiring of two more driving instructors for the district, making a total complement of eight, and hiring of teachers of educationally handicapped students at each school on a full-time basis next year rather than on the present part-time basis.

The funds include hiring of three non-certificated grounds supervisors at $6,000 each a year to patrol hallways and school yards.

Resignation of John R. George, coordinator of child welfare and attendance and who has been with the district 37 years was accepted. He is retiring in June.

Glidden R. Benefield, special projects assistant, also resigned effective in June. He has been with the district as teacher and track coach for 37 years, and two years ago took his present post.

Resignation of Arleen Sterling, Tamalpais High School teacher now on leave in San Francisco, was also accepted, effective at this school year's end.

The board hired Hershel Tribbett to teach art for the second semester at Tamalpais High School. He replaces Barbara Graham who resigned earlier for health reasons.

The board also adopted the 1968-69 school year calendar. It will have 177 school days from Sept. 11 to June 13.

Plans For Boyle Park Win Approval By Planners

The Mill Valley Planning Commission last night unanimously approved development plans for Boyle Park as presented by consultant Eldon Beck in a joint meeting with the parks and recreation commission.

The planning commission set a hearing Feb. 26 for abandonment of East Drive, which extends between East Blithedale Avenue and Sidney Street in the park.

The two commissions also discussed proposed development of East Mill Valley including the city-school Project 17 area, the proposed Hamilton Tidal Basin and possible abandonment of the sewage treatment plant. A field trip for both groups was scheduled for 11 a.m. Sunday to inspect the area.

In what may prove a precedent in Mill Valley planning, the commission denied a minor subdivision request by Martha Foss Forsyth for an undeveloped area west of 110 Myrtle Avenue, on grounds the area is inaccessible and lacks adequate water mains for fire protection. The area is 750 feet from the end of a paved road.

The commission ordered a statement sent to the city council calling attention to the decision and asking the council to prepare a policy on how sewers, streets and other services can be extended and paid for in areas not now served.

The Mill Valley Planning Commission also:

SALON — Approved a request for a spot reducing salon in a professional office building at 131 Camino Alto.

BICYCLES — Asked the council to propose to board of supervisors that bicycle trails be provide when Highway 1 is realigned in the Mill Valley area.

MEETING — Set its next meeting for Feb. 13.

Mill Valley Unification Shift Urged

The Mill Valley School District Board should reconsider its stand on unification, the board was told last night.

Mrs. Ellen Binckley, former member of the County Committee on School District Organization, recommended the board rethink its position that unification should follow the boundary lines of the Tamalpais High School District.

Galen Williams, current member of the county committee, outlined changes in unification criteria in last year's Assembly Bill 272. Under former rules, unification had to be proposed along existing high school district lines, but that requirement has been softened.

Criteria now are that the new district would have "substantial community identity," a projected pupil population of 10,000 in seven years, would not foster segregation and would not produce more than a 10 per cent differential in assessed valuation.

Williams and Mrs. Binckley suggested that a smaller area than the entire Tamalpais District might be proposed for unification. The Tamalpais District now comprises 11 elementary school districts.

The board asked that school organization be placed on agenda Feb. 26 or March 11 for discussion.

The Mill Valley School District Board also:

BONDS — Ordered a resolution authorizing sale of $2 million worth of school bonds put on the Feb. 5 agenda.

COMMENDATION — Ordered a letter written to Gov. Ronald Reagan commending Daniel A. Collins, Mill Valley member of the State Board of Education, and the other four outgoing members of the state board, suggesting Collins be reappointed.

MEETINGS — Set its February meetings for Feb. 5 and 26.

Schools Get A Windfall In Novato

The Novato School District received $188,894 more during the first half of the fiscal year than it had anticipated in its budget, according to Supt. James G. Bunker.

Of this, $25,344 will be used in the increased kindergarten program, and $70,000 used in capital outlay at the San Marin High School now under construction. The balance of $93,550 will be placed in the undistributed reserve, Bunker said.

The Novato Unified School District Board also:

GUARD — Postponed any decision at creating a crossing guard at Olive School on Olive Avenue, requested by residents of the Gnoss Estates Association. They were asked to see what further traffic controls the city might install before coming back to the school board.

JUNIOR HIGH — Set 2 p.m. June 13 for two junior high school promotion ceremonies to be held at San Jose and Hill junior high schools.

SPEECH — Received word that the Babcock Foundation had approved the $7,800 request for a speech therapy program and study in kindergartens in the district.

KINDERGARTEN — Received a report from Mrs. Naomi Kirschner, kindergarten curriculum teacher, on the beneficial effect of the single sessions in kindergarten classes.

EMPLOYMENT — Hired Carol Spores for $6,624 per year for Pleasant Valley and Philip Hicks for $6,900 for elementary teacher. It registered Donald Wineland as principal of West Novato School to the new San Marin elementary school.

San Anselmo Is $225,000 Suit Target

A San Rafael couple sued the City of San Anselmo for $255,000 in Marin Superior Court today, claiming the city's negligence caused a tree branch to fall on their car July 7.

Katalin Farkas, 38, and Paul Farkas, 45, of 24 Marquard Avenue, San Rafael, asked $250,000 general damages for Mrs. Farkas and $5,000 general damages for him.

They claimed the city "carelessly and negligently" maintained Sir Francis Drake Boulevard so that a tree branch fell on their northbound car the night of July 7.

Drunken Drivers Get Fines, Probation

Robert L. Bilderback, 32, of 19 Oak Avenue, San Rafael, was fined $230 and placed on six months probation in Marin Municipal Court yesterday for driving while drunk on Bon Air Road in Larkspur Friday.

Robert Gregory Biedma, 32, of Santa Rosa, was fined $174 and placed on seven months probation for the same offense Sept. 25 on Highway 37, where the California Highway Patrol arrested him.

Registration Of Voters Is Up

Marin County has an official voter registration of 80,260, up 9,009 from January of last year, Secretary of State Frank M. Jordan reported yesterday.

The total includes Democrat, 33,777; Republican, 40,368; American Independent Party, 202, and Peace and Freedom Party, 3,079.

Statewide, total registration is 7,182,951, including 3,829,243 Democrats, 2,934,061 Republicans, 107,263 American Independent Party, 105,100 Peace and Freedom Party and 207,284 who declined to state party affiliation or registered for miscellaneous parties.

HOW TO KEEP WELL

By DR. THEODORE R. VAN DELLEN

VAN DELLEN

The spoiled child is deliberately objectionable. He makes immoderate demands, is disrespectful, uncooperative, and often destructive. Many of these "terrors" are not bad; they are unhappy. Some are over-protected and others feel unwanted. An 8-year-old brattish boy made life miserable for his teacher and classmates. This first-class nuisance whispered, made noises, and jabbed other pupils in the ribs.

HE GRINNED broadly when reprimanded, which only made matters worse. Something had to be done and the parents agreed to try to iron out his problem. The boy had been a colic baby whose howling had kept the family up all night.

AFTER HE learned to walk, his tiny fingers got into everything. His misdemeanors were accentuated by the fact that his older sister was a model child. The mother described a third child as "the most precious baby in the world." She also admitted that she did not like the spoiled son as much as she did the others.

The father was uncooperative; he blamed his wife for spoiling the boy. It became obvious to the physician that little Henry was neither understood nor accepted by his parents. The lad's reactions represented a rebellion against his place in the household. Love and attention never spoil a child, but lack of these may create disciplinary problems.

HOSTILITY IS the main emotional force behind various forms of "acting out behavior disorders." The interpersonal bonds between parents and child are defective and the warmth engendered by a feeling of closeness is lacking. Minor problems of a hostile nature often take care of themselves if the child can learn the process of sharing. Henry must be taught to share the attention of the teacher with his classmates. Love and affection are not lessened in sharing but are expanded.

HYSTERECTOMY CONVALESCENCE

R. S. M. writes: How much time is required for complete recovery from a total hysterectomy? Please tell me what the aftereffects might be.

REPLY

Recovery takes from six weeks to three months. There should be no aftereffects although some women develop emotional disturbances, especially when they realize that they can no longer get pregnant. Send stamped, self-addressed envelope for leaflet on hysterectomy.

PROSPECTS OF RETARDED

REPLY

The brain of a mentally retarded child does not continue to deteriorate but the child develops slowly and may appear to lose ground, especially when compared with normal children his own age. In this respect, the youngsters seem to get worse, even though they may have improved.

TREATING NASAL POLYPS

V. V. writes: Are there any treatments for polyps in the nose?

REPLY

Surgical removal usually is needed but the polyp may disappear spontaneously when allergy is brought under control. Steroids also have been found beneficial.

CAST IN EYE DEFINED

D. M. wirtes: What is meant by a cast in the eye?

REPLY

Chief Di Grazia Seeks Divorce

He said he and his wife Patricia A. di Grazia married July 3, 1954, in San Francisco and separated Nov. 3, last year. He alleged she has treated him cruelly.

Di Grazia, who has headed the Novato force almost four years, asked that his wife be given custody of their four children, aged 11, 10, 5 and 2.

He asked an equitable distribution of community property, which includes the family home at 13 Sunnyhill Road, Novato.

Larkspur Council Workshops Set On Sign Rules

An adjourned meeting of the Larkspur City Council to hold the first workshop on a new sign ordinance is scheduled for 8 p.m. tomorrow at City Hall.

The proposed final draft was completed by the Larkspur Planning Commission Jan. 10 and has been delivered to the council. Several more workshops and an eventual public hearing will be scheduled prior to final council action on the matter.

Also scheduled at tomorrow's meeting is consideration of a claim by Anna Mae Wilson of Bakersfield for $25,000 damages from the city as a result of a broken ankle she allegedly received Sept. 16 near Value World, Larkspur Plaza, and request of Patrick O'Shea for new deeds on two lots he purchased from the city at 491 Alexander Avenue.

Innocent Plea To Marijuana Charge

Harry Frank Vantrease, 34, of San Geronimo, pleaded innocent in Marin Municipal Court yesterday to charges of possessing marijuana and a hypodermic syringe Jan. 3, when the California Highway Patrol arrested him in a parked car off Highway 101 at Greenbrae.

Preliminary hearing on the charges was set for Feb. 13.

Poverty War Legal Group In New Fight

SACRAMENTO (UPI) — The federally financed legal group which thwarted Gov. Ronald Reagan's attempt to cut the Medi-Cal program has launched another court challenge to the administration.

The California Rural Legal Assistance Inc., an anti-poverty organization which provides legal services for the poor, petitioned the Third District Court of Appeals to order public funds spent to pay court reporters to make transcripts of misdemeanor trials of indigent defendants in justice courts in California.

VERSIONS DIFFER

The action was filed as Reagan and the CRLA issued differing statements last weekend on Reagan's decision not to veto a $1.4 million federal grant to operate the group's program.

Reagan's office said the governor decided to withdraw his threatened veto because the CRLA agreed to modify some of its programs to meet administration requests.

However, CRLA director James Lorenz Jr. said the administration had backed down on all its requests for changes.

CRLA attorney Myron Moskovitz of Marysville asked the appeal court to make court reporter services available in the trials for welfare fraud of Antonio Navarro and Jose Luis Vasquez in Yuba Judicial District Court in Sutter County.

Named as defendants in the CRLA suit are Reagan, State Treasurer Ivy Baker Priest, the state, Sutter County and the Yuba Judicial District.

COURT POWER

Moskovitz pointed out that under current law a justice court judge has no authority to appoint a publicly paid court reporter while municipal court judges have that power. Superior Court felony trials must be recorded.

He said state courts recognize the right of misdemeanor defendants to have transcripts made on appeal at public expense. But he said that without a court reporter, this right has no meaning for a misdemeanor defendant in the justice court.

Moskovitz petitioned the appeal court after he was turned down by Sutter County Superior Court Judge John G. Hauck.

Housewife Faces Murder Charge

CORDELE, Ga. (AP) — Mrs. Janie Lou Gibbs, a housewife whose husband, three sons and grandson have died within two years, was indicted yesterday for murder in the death of one of her sons.

Mrs. Gibbs, who has been in Crisp County Jail since Dec. 23, will be arraigned next Monday at which time a trial date will be set.

Yesterday's indictment charged her in the death of Roger Gibbs, 19, who died in October of last year. His infant son died three weeks before.

TELEVISION IN REVIEW

A Dirksen Tour, Gem Of An Hour

By RICK DU BROW

HOLLYWOOD (UPI)—Everett McKinley Dirksen, the second most powerful man in Washington, D.C., and the fifth most popular male recording artist in the nation, was the subject of an hour ABC-TV program last night. It was, simply, a gem.

The broadcast was a finely polished blend of two elements: A personal look at the 72-year-old senator from Illinois, and a tour with him of the capitol building in Washington. He was excellent company in both areas. When it comes to talk of political style, let no one underestimate Everett McKinley Dirksen.

MUCH PLEASURE

Much of the pleasure of the hour was the easy going natural rapport and humor between Dirksen and the reporter-host, Howard K. Smith, who went on the tour with the senator. The way they picked up on each other's remarks and anecdotes provided a fluency that averted the stiffness often accompanying programs about politicians.

Furthermore, the unending flow of knowledge about events and people and history in the capitol, as only Dirksen can express it, gave the hour more real flavor of the atmosphere of the place than any comparable video program in memory.

As the broadcast noted, Dirksen is the last of a breed—or maybe the first. His individualism is a joy to behold, and makes him seem younger than the gray establishment types half his age. And, as the hour pointed up, an added reason for this is the simple, innate sense of humanity that constantly pops out from behind the spectacular flow of words.

INTIMATE TONE

He is an incomparable offhand conversationalist, and his recollections of dealings with five presidents therefore took on an appealing intimate tone. Adding to this rare flavor of Americana was a visit to his home town of Pekin, Ill., where his two brothers—including his twin—recalled boyhood days.

One of them remembered how young Everett used to practice his oration in the barn, and how you could hear him from the barn to the kitchen. His mother would say, "Now just listen to him talk," and you could say the same today.

Dirksen described himself as "an Abraham Lincoln garden variety middle-of-the-road Republican." ABC-TV put it more simply: At the core, it said, he is a patriot. And how suddenly refreshing that word sounds in the year 1968.

"Rowan and Martin's Laugh-in," a new one-hour NBC-TV series of fast gags, blackouts and topical sketches, bowed in last night, based on a special of earlier this season. Like the special, it is all comedy, and a hit-and-miss affair, but nonetheless is very promising in its willingness to do things differently. It is, thank heaven, not the standard variety show. It is fast, racy, contemporary, campy, youthful and not afraid to throw some zingers at sensitive subjects.

SHOW'S SPIRIT

There was a skit with an integrated married couple; a spoof of President Johnson and his family; an 1984 news report in which American jets were said to be strafing Viet Cong positions just outside Paris; and a clergyman who felt there would be no trouble between the Arabs and Israelis if only they both started acting like Christians. It was all done without meanness, and the good-natured approach was most effective.

The Channel Swim: Dr. Benjamin Spock and the Rev. William Sloane Coffin Jr., chaplain of Yale University—both recently indicted by a federal grand jury on charges of conspiring to encourage violations of the draft laws—are interviewed Sunday on NBC-TV's "Meet the Press". Former President Eisenhower appears tonight on CBS-TV's one-hour program "State of the Union—A Republican View."

NBC-TV's "Telephone Hour" has set Feb. 16 as the date for its program about "The Sounds and Sights of Chicago," focusing on the city's vitality as seen through its varied musical activities.

Highway 101 Widening Due Soon, State Says

A cooperative project to widen the southbound portion of Highway 101 to four lanes and install a median barrier between the Golden Gate Bridge and Marin City will soon be advertised, according to Alan S. Hart, district engineer for the California Division of Highways.

The state has budgeted $220,000 and the Golden Gate Bridge and Highway District will contribute another $50,000 toward the cost of the project. Earlier bids were unsuccessful and the project has been redesigned for improved bidding.

Hart said there are a number of other 101 projects in the works. These include:

Budgeted sum of $910,000 to add two lanes, install median barrier, upgrade signs on 3.6 miles of 101 between south of Forbes Overhead and Pacheco Creek over crossing. The project will be advertised next month.

Expansion of 101 to six lanes, including construction of a collector road between Third Street and Mission Avenue, San Rafael, a pedestrian over crossing at Paloma near Coleman School and a partial interchange at San Pedro Road. Advertisement for bids is tentatively scheduled for next summer.

Replacement of 2.2 miles of median barrier between south of the Alto Wye and the Corte Madera interchange. The sum of $156,000 has been budgeted for this and the project will be advertised next month.

Jury Convicts On Theft Count

A Marin Superior Court jury Friday convicted Willie Walter Bradley, 27, of Richmond, of stealing two electric typewriters worth $589 from Ray's Office Machines at 1209 Third Street, San Rafael, Sept. 21.

Bradley was ordered to appear in court next Friday for sentencing on the grand theft conviction.

Deserter Son Ignores Family Plea To Return

HAELSINGBORG, Sweden (AP)—The parents of a U.S. Army deserter, John Dowling, of San Diego, Calif., arrived unexpectedly in Sweden in an attempt to talk their son into returning to his base in West Germany but apparently failed, the young man's host said Sunday.

Dowling, 19, who came here after deserting his unit in Mainz, West Germany, is staying at the home of Haelsingborg Vicar Gunnar Stenberg with another deserter Joseph E. Norwood, 19, of Newport Beach, Calif.

"John and his parents have agreed that they want no publicity. I have, however, understood that John has decided to stay here. His application for asylum for 'humanitarian reasons' is still pending with the aliens commission," the vicar said in a telephone interview.

The theft of a rug and bedspread, worth $100, from a model home at 467 Cedar Hills, was reported by Reba L. Richardson of the American Housing Guild Friday.

While Katherine B. Bates of 108 Professional Center Parkway was playing bridge at 714 C Street Friday she said someone jacked up her car and removed two front wheels. They were valued at $80.

A similar theft was reported to police by Donald Lee McDowell of 149 Novato Street. He said two custom-made wheels were stolen from his car Saturday at his home.

Three tons of railroad coupling plates, worth $81, were taken from a pile alongside the track east of Rice Street Saturday, said police. They belong to Northwestern Pacific Railroad.

$175,000 Award For Brain Damage At U.C. Hospital

OAKLAND (AP — An Alameda County Superior Court Jury awarded $175,000 in damages Saturday night to Mrs. Ruth Kietzman, a Berkeley widow, for brain injuries suffered at the University of California Hospital in San Francisco in 1962.

The woman's daughter, Miss Anita Kietzman, a San Francisco school teacher, brought the suit against the University of California regents, saying her mother has had to be confined in a rest home. Damages totaling $250,000 were sought.

Mrs. Kietzman's attorney contended she had been administered an excessive amount of local anesthetic to her throat while receiving diagnostic stomach tests in March 1962. He said she suffered convulsions, respiratory and circulatory failure which left her in a coma several days and from which she did not recover.
